

WELLGISTICS HEALTH, INC. OFFICIALLY CHANGES CORPORATE NAME TO DATAMEDS AI, INC.

Leading Health IT Company's Rebranding Reflects Updated Healthcare Ecosystem Aligned with AI Integration to Optimize Patient Control of Healthcare Data

TAMPA, Fla., July 21, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Wellgistics Health, Inc., (NASDAQ:WGRX), a Health IT leader, integrating pharmacy dispensing AI platform EinsteinRx™ into patented pharmacy smart contracts platform PharmacyChain™, today announced that it has officially completed its name change to DataMEDS AI, Inc. ("DataMEDS" or "the Company"). Simultaneous with this announcement, the Company announced that it will begin trading under the stock symbol 'MEDS' on the NASDAQ Capital Market stock exchange on Wednesday, July 22, 2026.

DataMeds aims to deliver a vertically aligned healthcare ecosystem to patients that expands EinsteinRx™'s technological capabilities into medical, laboratory and wearables fields through a proprietary blockchain, leveraging unique drug-adjunct products to tailor patient-specific solutions through the Health Lives Here app, initially targeting GLP-1-associated muscle loss and Long COVID patient bases. The Company intends to leverage Health Lives Here's unique patient-engagement infrastructure to consolidate electronic health data into our proprietary health-centered blockchain infrastructure to enable patients to participate in data transaction revenue, reduce data friction for providers, and allow for tailored clinical trial offerings of both prescription drugs and/or proprietary nutraceutical products for patients seeking to reach specific health goals.

"Today's announcement is the start of a new chapter in healthcare as we lay the groundwork for patients being able to seize control of their health data," said Gerald Commissiong, Gerald E. Commissiong, Interim Co-CEO of Wellgistics Health. "From the pending launch of our digital platform under the consumer Health Lives Here app, to expanding EinsteinRx AI technology into new medical fields to help consolidate data access for patients, providers, pharmacists, pharmaceutical manufacturers and payors/PBMs, DataMeds AI is building a more cohesive digital health environment that allows for greater efficiency and better health outcomes by breaking down the data sharing barriers that exist in our healthcare system today."
