

net2phone Partners with UPSTACK

Agreement brings net2phone's cloud communications offerings to the UPSTACK Platform

Newark, NJ, July 19, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- net2phone, a leading cloud communications provider, today announced a strategic partnership with UPSTACK, the fast-growing platform that transforms the way businesses design and select digital infrastructure solutions.

The partnership enables UPSTACK's extensive network of expert advisors to offer net2phone's cloud communication solutions to clients through UPSTACK's industry-transforming platform, trusted client relationships, and advanced technology.

"Through this partnership, we will collaborate with UPSTACK's highly regarded technology experts and advisors enabling their clients to leverage the power of the cloud for smarter conversations," said Jonah Fink, President of net2phone. "This agreement reflects net2phone's singular commitment to our channel partners' success through a comprehensive partners' program including industry-leading incentives, flexible pricing, and white-glove on-boarding."

"We're excited to partner with net2phone, a leader in VoIP and unified communications services," said Danielle De Costa, Vice President of Supplier and Sales Enablement for UPSTACK. "Their solution set is ideal for enabling next-generation workforce models for businesses of all sizes."

net2phone's cloud communications solutions include advanced feature sets and robust integrations with popular applications including Microsoft Teams, Salesforce, Slack and Zoho.
