

EQUIPPED FOR INNOVATION

Babcock Ranch is committed to becoming a place for forward looking, sustainable technological development – a “living laboratory” where leading innovators can design, deploy and refine smart technologies that will change the way we live. This emphasis on innovation and technology – powered by clean, renewable solar energy - opens the door for job creation by positioning Babcock Ranch as the premiere place for sustainability-minded companies to call home.

The 6 million square feet of light industrial, retail, commercial civic and office space approved as part of the master plan for Babcock Ranch supports the creation of employment opportunities in researching, developing and implementing the new technologies and products of an innovation economy. Strategic partners like Florida Power & Light (FPL), Transdev, CenturyLink and Lee Health are already leveraging the technological infrastructure of Babcock Ranch to take new and emerging technologies and service delivery models from concept to reality.

FPL is researching and testing battery-storage technology aimed at improving the predictability and reliability of solar power. The 10MW of battery storage added in March 2018 makes the Babcock Ranch Solar Energy Center the largest solar-plus-storage project operating in the U.S.

Since North America’s first autonomous shuttle network launched at Babcock Ranch in November of 2017, Transdev has been working toward introducing on-demand “Mobility as a Service” options. Babcock Ranch residents will soon be beta-testing a mobility app for point-to-point transportation and goods delivery utilizing driverless vehicles operated from a central dispatch center at Founder’s Square.

Doctors will soon be just a “click” away. Lee Health is taking advantage of the gigabyte of fiber-optic connectivity to launch tele-health consultations with doctors based at the Lee Physician Group Clinic at Babcock Ranch.
