Centering Young Black Children in Oakland: Incorporating Anti-Racist Principles into Early Learning Practice

Join a powerful conversation hosted by Oakland Starting Smart and Strong (OSSS) with Oakland educators and parent leaders as they share strategies for nurturing the development of young Black children in early learning programs.

Tuesday, March 16, 2021
2:00 to 3:30 PM (PST) via Zoom
REGISTER HERE

Our panel of experts includes:

- Taji Brown, Oakland Unified School District (OUSD)
- Dr. Tasha Henneman, OSSS Trainer and Facilitator
- Pecolia Manigo, Bay Area Parent Leadership Action Network
- Dr. LaWanda Wesley, OUSD

Event Facilitated by:
Nini Humphrey, OUSD and Pacific Oaks College

This event is hosted by the OSSS Boys of Color Work Group and was produced in association with Bank Street College of Education’s Early Childhood Symposium titled, “Disrupting Anti-Black Racism in Early Childhood Education: Center, Abolish, Liberate.” This event supports the “Black Lives Matter At Schools Year of Purpose” as educators, teachers, and leaders explore inequities in the educational system and their impact on Black children.

Photo courtesy of Alameda County Fathers Corps