Compared to last week, steers and heifers sold 1.00 to 5.00 lower in the North and South-Central regions, while the Southeast was quoted mostly steady. Grazing cattle out of the Southeast were the greatest in demand this week. Feedyards were tepid in taking on more cattle this week. More precipitation and/or blizzard-like conditions late this week bombarded a widespread area of the Plains. High winds from the Texas Panhandle to Western Nebraska brought treacherous conditions for truckers as some bull boxes decided to err on the side of caution and wait out the storm. This week's receipts were curtailed again this week due to either reduced or cancelled sales in Nebraska and the Dakotas as an intense storm ripped through Rockies and into the Central and Northern Plains. Low-lying areas that feed the MO River are inundated with moisture and the frozen ground underneath can't absorb any more precipitation. The Missouri River at Plattsmouth, NE hit a record high of 37.15 feet Thursday night, exceeding the previous record high set in 2011 of 36.73 feet. A "bomb cyclone" occurred when the barometric pressure fell at least 24 millibars in a 24-hour period. All this happening as the winter...
