

COLIN JACOBS - BIO

After graduating Brown with a degree in Computer Graphics, Colin started as Tech Director for Star Wars 1 & 2 at LucasArts in San Francisco. Later, after transitioning into a career in real estate, Colin partnered with SportStar Relocation, a niche real estate company in Los Angeles that is a one-stop relocation service for professional athletes. Currently, he's the Managing Director at RE/MAX Estate Properties, Sports and Entertainment Division, overseeing his real estate sales business, mentoring his team, and enhancing the sales systems for the parent company RE/MAX Estate Properties, which has 18 offices throughout LA. Colin also serves as an advisor to international luxury and commercial real estate auctions. In addition, Colin devotes many hours to helping advise his clients' on their non-profit foundations in keeping with his passion for philanthropic causes. Through his diverse professional experience, Colin has helped his clients buy and sell millions, and has developed unique techniques to continue to expand choice investment networks, both domestic and abroad.