Types of Porcelain

Choose from 5 distinct varieties of porcelain tile to find the perfect match for your project.

Through Body Tile

Through body tile is ideal for high traffic areas because it’s the best at hiding scratches, chips and wear. The entire tile is made of the same material, with no surface glaze or finish, so scratches blend in with the surface. Note in the illustration how the exposed body of the tile closely resembles the surface.

Color Body Tile

Color body tile offers both great beauty and durability. This tile is painted with a finish and then glazed, giving it the perfect look. The color of the tile is carefully matched with the finish to make wear less noticeable. You can see how well the exposed body matches the surface in the illustration.

Double Loaded Tile

A double loaded tile can provide durability at a bargain price by layering a beautiful unglazed tile with a simple base tile. The two layers are fused together with extreme pressure and heat, forming a single solid tile. The best double loaded tiles have a thick top layer to prevent surface damage from revealing the base layer.

Red Body Tile

Red body tile is similar to white body tile, but uses more affordable raw materials which typically results in a more affordable tile. Although the body of the tile is red, once installed and grouted, the red body can not been seen. If the tile becomes chipped or scratched the red body can show through, making this type of tile less desirable in high traffic applications.

White Body Tile

A white body tile can provide a stunning look with a painted eye-catching design protected by a thin yet durable glaze. While this isn’t as durable as through body tile, it can make for a truly unique design that can’t be replicated by any other method.

Porcelain Tile

Choose from 5 distinct varieties of porcelain tile to find the perfect match for your project.
Core Ingredients

Pigment Mix
Base colors mixed together to create an endless amount of clay colors for thru and color bodied tiles.

Rock Materials

Feldspar
Feldspar is a collection of crystallized minerals used to make glass and ceramic products.

Recycled Materials
Recycled glass and clay products are crushed and mixed in with the raw materials.

Clay
White, illitic and kaolinitic clays are used in tile making process. Other raw materials are mixed with these clays to make the body of the tile.

Minerals
Calcite, Dolomite and other minerals are added to the raw materials.

How It's Made

Our 6-step process to create the perfect tile.

1. Mix & Grind
Just like cooking at home, a quality tile requires just the right mix. Raw ingredients and water are combined with grinding beads in a large mixer to create the perfect consistency.

2. Dry
Before the tile can be formed, some of the water needs to be evaporated in a dryer. Removing water from the mix creates a harder and therefore more durable tile.

3. Form
The ingredients are pressed into a template at over 5,000 pounds per square inch. The extreme pressure solidifies the tile and gives it the strength that it’s known for.

4. Dry
The tile is dried again to remove more water. Tiles made with small amounts of water are less likely to crack in freezing temperatures.

5. Glaze & Screen
It’s time for the finishing touch. A finish is painted on, giving the tile a distinctive pattern, and a glaze is applied for stain resistance. However, not all tile is finished or glazed.

6. Glaze & Screen
Finally, the tile is baked at a scorching 2,500 °F to set the glaze and remove more water. Much like baking at home, different tiles require different baking times and heat.

ABUNDANT CHOICES

Bookmatching refers to the practice of matching two (or more) slabs and placing them side by side to mirror each other – much like an open book. The ultimate in opulence, bookmatched (also known as butterflied) slabs are stunning and are typically displayed across a large area (on the wall or floor) so the full effect can be captured.

The slabs can take on a look of abstract art and create stunning stonescapes that will elevate the style in your space.

Because Magnifica® is meant to replicate the beauty of natural stone, the patterns in the stone must vary as well or the end result looks unnatural. To achieve the randomness found naturally in marble, we offer four unique faces in Calacatta Super White, Statuario Super White and Lincoln Super White in the 60”x120” sizes. For a large wall or floor, you can lay the faces in sequential order to create the illusion of a massive single piece of stone. Or, you can set them randomly in different compositions to create a non-uniform look.

Play with Light and Shadows

The 3D appearance, created by the triangle shape paired with the concave curve, cause a dramatic sculpted and shadowed look. The curve, playing with light, can shift and transform throughout the day as your lighting changes. The relief look also changes depending on your pattern layout.

DITRA-HEAT is the only electric floor warming system that directly incorporates uncoupling technology to ensure that floors aren’t susceptible to cracked tiles and grout. Cables can be placed wherever heat is desired for customized heating zones, and no leveling compounds are required, which makes for a quick and easy installation.

Made of polyethylene, DITRA and DITRA-XL serve as a waterproofing layer that protects moisture-sensitive substrates, such as plywood/GSL. Free-space on the underside of the matting provides a route for excess moisture & vapor to prevent damage to the tile layer above.
