

Women in Higher Education & Student Affairs Materials for Course and/or Professional Development

The following slideshow presentation and annotated bibliography are available to download for courses and professional development opportunities. The materials were funded by a grant through the American College Personnel Association (ACPA) Commission for Professional Preparation. The materials are intended for use with the following book as the core course/workshop text:

Pasque, P. A. & Errington Nicholson, S. (2011). Empowering women in higher education and student affairs: Theory, research, narratives, and practice from feminist perspectives. Sterling, VA: Stylus and American College Personnel Association.

This information may be useful for courses on gender in higher education and student affairs, diversity in higher education, intergroup dialogue courses that focus on gender, and additional related courses. In addition, the slideshow might be beneficial for a class session or workshop on women leadership, mentoring between women, intersectionality, or other related topics.

For course orders of 12 copies or more, Stylus Publishing will supply the book at $35 (a 30% saving on list price of $49.95). Given the high discount, instructor copies are not supplied free, but should be included in the order quantity. To obtain your discount use code EPW12, when ordering online or calling Stylus toll free at 1-800-232-0223.
