

Contents

Foreword	v
Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of contributors	xii
Section 1 Natural history and ecology of the Lake Eyre Basin	1
1 The Lake Eyre Basin – one of the world’s great desert river systems	3
Richard T. Kingsford
2 Water – where, when, how much? Challenges in understanding and managing flow in rivers of the Lake Eyre Basin	19
Justin Costelloe
3 Fish distribution, status and threats in the rivers and springs of the Queensland Lake Eyre Basin	31
Adam Kerezsy
4 Natural flows drive the ‘boom and bust’ ecology of fish in Cooper Creek, an arid-zone floodplain river	43
Angela H. Arthington and Stephen R. Balcombe
5 Turtles of Cooper Creek – life in the slow lane	55
Arthur Georges and Fiorenzo Guarino
6 Developing the desert – potential effects on wildlife	63
Chris Dickman, Aaron Greenville and Glenda Wardle
Section 2 Cultural and socio-economic dimensions of the rivers	75
7 Connecting the champions of the Lake Eyre Basin rivers	77
Richard T. Kingsford, Vol Norris and Michelle Rodrigo
8 Looking after the rivers – a view from nearly 50 000 years of experience	95
Scott Gorringe
9 Caring for our sacred waterways – learning from our past	103
Colin Saltmere
10 River sustainability – essential for the livelihoods of landholders	107
Angus Emmott

11	Clean green beef – the importance of free-flowing rivers in the Lake Eyre Basin	113
	David Brook
12	A life living between a river and a creek	119
	Leonie Nunn
13	Kati Thanda-Lake Eyre – not just a wildlife paradise but also an economic lifeline	123
	Trevor Wright
14	When our rivers ran dry – 30 years of water resource development in the Murray–Darling Basin	127
	Ed Fessey
15	A river and a livelihood – all but lost in a decade	137
	Pop Petersen
16	Making a living from the Macquarie Marshes – coping with decisions upstream	145
	Garry Hall
17	‘Once more into the breach, dear friends ...’ – the ongoing battle for the Cooper	151
	Bob Morrish
18	River and wetland health in the Lake Eyre Basin – an economic perspective	159
	Mark Morrison
19	Mining and the Lake Eyre Basin environment – past, present and possible futures	173
	Gavin M. Mudd
	Section 3 Looking after the rivers	193
20	Sustainable management of the Lake Eyre Basin rivers – regulate, educate or open the gate?	195
	Tom Crothers
21	Water governance in Queensland – implications for Wild Rivers declarations in the Lake Eyre Basin	213
	Poh-Ling Tan
22	Sustainability for the rivers of the Lake Eyre Basin	229
	Richard T. Kingsford
	Index	241