Kansas State Head Coach Brad Hill

On the win:

"Our only opportunity (for postseason play) is to win every game."

On the balance in the Big 12:

"We talked about that on Media day. All the coaches respect each other. The league has so much parity right now, anybody can beat anybody. It's a great conference and its going to continue to improve."

Kansas State third basemen Nate Tenbrink

On the home run:

"It was just a fastball. I just put a good swing on it and it cleared the fence."

On Oklahoma State's starting pitcher Tyler Blandford:

"He pitched his tail off to night after the first inning. He started throwing a lot of offspeed. Which caught me off guard and shut me down the rest of the day."

Kansas State Starting pitcher Brad Hutt

On his recent success:

"I've had infielders playing great behind us and outfielders running down balls. And catcher Rob Vaughn has been working his tail off behind the mound calling pitches."

"I have just been going out and getting ahead of hitters. Finding ways to put them away and get that flow going. That's the thing about baseball, the momentum and trying to keep it on your side."
