Texas head coach Augie Garrido:

On Texas' ability to work out of jams in the first two innings of the game:

"The momentum from that game came from the first two innings with the bases loaded and one out, and we got out of it with only giving up one run."

On Texas' pitching in the game:

"I think Coach (Skip) Johnson did a good job setting up the pitching and the breakdown with Cole Green being the only glitch."

On Texas' ability to answer with runs when Kansas State made their comeback:

"We did a good job of putting runs on the board and continuing to answer. And when they scored we continued to answer. By the time we got late in the game, Austin (Wood) was in the position to come in and he took control of the game from the defensive side."
