Quotes

Oklahoma State head coach James Wadley

On the match:

"We had a chance to win the doubles, at No. 3 doubles. We won at No. 1 doubles, another great match against the 12th-ranked (doubles) team in the country. We won No. 1 doubles and we were two points away from winning No. 3 doubles and they came back and beat us. So, we lost the doubles point and knew we would have to come back and win four singles. That's what we did down at Texas Tech this last weekend and we had to do the same thing today.

"Fortunately, today, we had four guys come through for us. We won at No. 1, won quickly at No. 4. (Anton) Bobytskyi won and he was the clinching match down at Texas Tech, but he won it easily this time. Won at No. 6 in straight sets. I really proud of the way the guys hustled and fought. I thought are guys kept their composure really well and battled tough conditions against a very, very well-coached and talented Texas Tech team. We are really proud of the win today."

On the Saturday semifinal matchup versus Baylor:

"Baylor is obviously the class of the Big 12. They are a quality team. Their depth is really, really good. They've got the No. 4 ranked player in the country. They beat us down there (in Waco), just kicked us. Hopefully, we can play a little better tomorrow and give them a little more of a contest."

Oklahoma State sophomore Mikhail Trukshanin

On the match:

"It was a pretty hard game, I had lost to (Texas Tech's Michael Breler) before. We lost doubles for the third time to this team and so we needed to win four singles. The game before, I lost my game but another four guys won. Today, I saw that three guys were losing so I had to win. We've had four or five matches like this this season and some days some guys win and other days other guys win, so I think we have a good team."

Texas Tech head coach Tim Siegel

On the match:

"It was incredibly disappointing. Another 4-3 loss after being up 3-1 but, unfortunately our seniors didn't get it done. All the credit goes to Oklahoma State -- a great win. We'll get ready for the NCAAAs."

On the Big 12 Championship experience:

"Oklahoma's done a great job putting this on. It's been a fantastic venue. The hotels are great; the facilities are great. Everybody's done a great job. We appreciate being here. Unfortunately, our stay was short."
