Big West At A Glance

HAWAII HOSTS TOP COMPETITION

Hawai'i hosts No. 1 USC in its hoe opener this weekend after 17 matches on neutral ground. The Rainbow Wahine return to competition after a two-week hiatus and jump right back in the thick of the action, taking on the No. 1 Trojans. So far this season, the Big West is 0-2 against USC, having faced CSUN and UC Irvine earlier this year. The match versus USC will open a five-game homestand as league play begins next week.

REPEAT

UC Davis' Hannah Harvey became the first student-athlete this season to receive back-to-back women's water polo player of the week honors. Not only has Harvey received the award in consecutive weeks, but she is the first to receive the honor twice in 2016.

ON DECK FOR THE BEACH

Long Beach State will host Bucknell before traveling to play Whittier on the road. The 49ers have won six of their last seven matches heading in competition this week. Senior goalkeeper Alexis Butler is just four saves away from matching her total saves from last season (76).

Athlete of the Week

UC Davis junior Hannah Harvey (Clovis, Calif./Clovis HS) scored six total goals in Friday's Aggie Invitational doubleheader sweep, including the game-winner against No. 19 Hartwick, as she earned her second straight Big West Women's Water Polo Player of the Week honor.

The utility player notched four of her six scores against the Hawks, none more dramatic than the game-winner with 45 seconds left that gave the Aggies a 12-11 victory. Harvey stole a pass coming out of a Hartwick timeout, then finished the counterattack opportunity to break the 11-11 tie with 45 seconds left.

Leading up to that point, Harvey's three other second-half goals set up the heroics: the 8-8 equalizer to close out the third, a counter goal midway through the fourth to give UC Davis the leads, and another fast break strike to extend that lead to 11-8.

Harvey collected two more goals in Friday afternoon's 14-9 victory over Azusa Pacific.

Others nominated: Annika Nelson (UC Irvine)
