RMOUG's Training Days is the premier (and largest) grass-roots Oracle user training event in the U.S., offering more than 100 sessions over three days from world-renowned experts. Known throughout the country for its remarkable content, low-key networking opportunities, and incredible scenery, it provides an opportunity to learn about the cutting-edge products and services available to build for the future. For almost 30 years, Training Days has been hosted by the Rocky Mountain Oracle Users Group, an active, independent, non-profit organization striving to provide its members with instruction, guidance, and networking opportunities throughout the year, including a multi-page quarterly newsletter full of relevant content and tips.

Nowhere else can you find a better venue for face-to-face interaction than Training Days! As a vendor or sponsor you will have the opportunity to network with over 500 DBAs, Developers, Consultants, and Project Managers as well as Managers and Directors. Let us bring the attendees to you so that YOU can grow your business! Come and join us at Training Days, develop new business relationships, sell more product and get your company name and brand out to the people who use and work with Oracle!
