

Caleb McMahon

Director of Economic Development for Jefferson County Alliance

Caleb McMahon is an Arkansas native, born in Monticello, Arkansas. In 2005, he received his bachelor's degree in International Business from Missouri Southern State University in Joplin, Missouri. After graduation he was hired by a British Construction and Engineering firm to work out of their office in Shanghai, China. Caleb spent the next five years building manufacturing facilities for some of the world's largest companies throughout China.

In 2010, Caleb returned to Arkansas to attend The University Arkansas School of Law. During law school Mr. McMahon clerked for the Attorney General of Palau and one of China's largest maritime law firms, Wang Jing & Co. Caleb accepted a position within Wang Jing & Co.'s international corporate department during his final year of law school and returned to Shanghai upon his graduation in 2013, where he spent a number of years specializing in international transactions, investments, and foreign corrupt practices.

He returned to Arkansas in 2016 and currently serves as the Director of Economic Development with the Economic Development Alliance for Jefferson County, AR.
