Disclosure Report
Date Submitted: October 24th, 2023

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Company Suppliers in Conflict Zones

Topic	Suppliers of software development services from Ukraine.
Summary of Issue	Eargym is a hearing training app providing unlimited hearing checks, training exercises, and personalized advice. The company has a long term contractual arrangement with a service provider, Perpet.io, based in Ukraine that carries out back-end Flutter software development for Eargym products. The company started their work with Perpet.io before the conflict started, and understood the importance of maintaining contribution to their economy during a time of war, as they continue to provide services required by Eargym.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	In FY 2022, 51.1% of the company's contractor costs and 12.7% of the company's total costs were attributed to Perpet.io .
Impact on Stakeholders	Business activities located in conflict zones are considered high-risk as they are more likely to cause or contribute to the conflict and/or sociopolitical instability. Countries classified as conflict zones are more likely to have a weak rule-of-law or a corrupt judicial system, which could undermine the effectiveness of operational grievance mechanisms for these businesses and their suppliers. In addition, the safety of the company's workers and other potential human rights violations are at risk.
Implemented Management Practices	The purchases from the conflict zone are not certified by a third party. The arrangement is subject to a formal contract that was signed, and is on a rolling basis. The company's Supplier Management Practices policy outlines their commitment to supplier screening and auditing, anti-corruption mechanisms, compliance, risk mitigation, transparency & reporting, among others. This policy also recognizes their cooperation with the Ukrainian supplier and establishes the company's commitment to their engagement remaining ethical and not contributing to conflict.

	In addition, the company has a Third Party Governance Policy outlining the principles, guidelines and procedures that eargym will follow to manage and govern its relationships with third party entities. This policy is overseen by a Third-Party Governance Committee ensuring the compliance of the policy by third parties, as well as updating the framework and standards. This policy applies to all employees, contractors and agents of eargym who engage with or oversee third party relationships.
