

—

An intimate group of female executives, innovators and disruptors who are consciously architecting the future of their industries and are ready to unlock the untapped potential inside of themselves to lead with greater clarity, courage, impact... and joy.

WorldShapers™
..... a preview

Welcome WorldShaper™

You've been called to build the future...
but you know you can't do it alone.

Now more than ever, there is a need for women who think differently to take the reins and lead. For over a century, the lion's share of innovation has been driven by hyper-masculine, finance-focused leaders who co-opted the world's best technologies to serve their individual gain. The byproduct is a society that is over worked, meaning-depleted, asleep, addicted, confused, and burned out.

In 2020, instigated by a world-wide global pandemic, something began to change. Women and diverse people spoke out loudly for a new way of doing business – and society – that honors multiple stakeholders and takes more than just profit into account. But as the pandemic subsides, and the world begins to open again, our craving for the old status quo is getting stronger. Can we turn the corner? Or has our conviction begun to wane?

I believe we can do better. But it takes strength, courage and conviction to stand for a new paradigm.

WorldShapers™ is your invitation to...

Take the reins. Dream a new future. Disrupt sh*t.
Get in flow. Build it. Dare to lead.

Is WorldShapers™ for you?

You read the books. You got the degrees. You hired an executive coach. You made it. But each time you 'got there,' the goal got bigger. Today, your mission isn't just about you. And you know you can't do it alone.

Like a phoenix, you're ready to face the next crucible and rise in you power – to show up fully for the challenge and become the next iteration of you: a woman who can (and does) shape the future, with guts... and with grace.

WorldShapers™ is for executive women leaders who:

- Identify as disruptors in their industry.
- Believe in business as a force for good.
- Are committed to diversity of perspective.
- Know their company culture is mirror of their leadership.
- See themselves as co-responsible for the future of humanity.
- Are ready to connect spiritual practice with business results.
- Crave allyship and connection with true peers.

.....

In the end, there's nothing you can read in a brochure that will confirm whether this invitation is right for you...
but your gut knows.

Guts & Grace

For more information or to book a discovery call contact:
leeann@gutsandgrace.com
www.gutsandgrace.com/world-shapers