Disclosure Report

Date Submitted: September 9th, 2025

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Industries at Risk of Human Rights Violations

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement
Topic	Forced labor and human rights violations are recognized as material issues in the jewelry industry.
Summary of Issue	Tabayer is a fine jewelry brand that earns a material amount of revenue from raw materials whose supply chain carries risks of human rights violations which includes jewelry & precious metals.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	100% of the company's annual revenues come from sale of its jewelry. In terms of the supplier's expenses, 94% of the spending on raw materials is allocated to precious metals, 4% to diamonds, and 2% to precious stones. During fiscal year 2023, the company did not purchase precious stones as raw materials. 100% of the company's suppliers are traceable and certified by the Responsible Jewellery Council. Additionally, 100% of the diamonds are covered by the Kimberley Certification Scheme. 100% of the company's expenses for precious metals are Fairmined and certified, and the company itself is Fairmined certified under the Fairmined Standard for gold from artisanal and small-scale mining, version 2.0 - April 2014.
Impact on Stakeholder(s)	The global jewelry & precious metals industry has a history of forced and child labor, which subjects workers to poor working conditions, low wages, and puts children at risk for human trafficking.
Implemented Management Practices	The company has a supplier code of conduct that outlines the requirements for suppliers in areas including labor practices, human rights, workplace safety, environmental compliance, and responsible sourcing. The code prohibits child labor, forced labour, coercion, and discrimination, and it requires compliance with laws regarding wages, working hours, and health and safety. It also states that diamonds must be conflict-free and purchased in compliance with United Nations resolutions and the Kimberley Process. Additionally, gold must be Fairmined certified with full traceability across the supply chain. Subcontracting is not permitted without prior written approval. All mines, refiners, manufacturers, and casters supplying gold

	shall be independently audited by a third-party auditor. The company requires the following documentation as part of the supplier agreement: the Supplier or Vendor Code of Conduct, ethics policy, environmental documents (including third-party certifications and permits), social compliance certifications, policies and procedures, traceability information, and audits or assessment related to labor practices and human rights. Additionally, a location and geographical assessment is needed. The company has conducted visits and tours of some of their Fairmined mines suppliers in Colombia and questions suppliers about their social and environmental performance during the initial setup and every two years thereafter.
