Disclosure Report
Date Submitted: July 30th, 2024

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Suppliers located in Conflict Zones

Topic	Company has suppliers located in Conflict Zones
Summary of Issue	Rudolph Care is a wholesaler for beauty and care products based in Denmark. The company purchases shea butter originated from Burkina Faso which has been identified as a conflict zone by the World Bank due to an ongoing civil war. The supplier in the conflict zone represents a tier-3 supplier. The company purchases the finished product containing the shea butter through a third-party production, who is supplied by a sourcing Agency and then the direct source who sells the shea butter.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	In the fiscal year end of 2023, 0.89% of the company's total purchases were from the conflict affected zone.
Impact on Stakeholders	Business activities located in conflict zones are considered high-risk as they are more likely to cause or contribute to the conflict and/or sociopolitical instability. Countries classified as conflict zones are more likely to have a weak rule-of-law or a corrupt judicial system, which could undermine the effectiveness of operational grievance mechanisms for these businesses and their suppliers. In addition, the safety of the company's workers and other potential human rights violations are at risk.
Implemented Management Practices	Olvea, which is the main supplier of the shea butters based in Burkina Faso, has a whole integrated supply chain. They also produce and sell fair-trade raw materials which includes the Shea butter. The products are fair-trade certified by Ecocert, which guarantees that the producers receive a fair price throughout the supply chain, improve their production tools, and have the means to carry out collective projects through a dedicated development fund. Rudolph Care has a Supplier Code of Conduct in place to ensure its suppliers comply with the principles of the United Nation's (UN) Global Compact, the UN's Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Labor Organizations (ILO) Declaration on Labor Rights and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD's) Anti-Bribery

	Convention. The company requires all of its suppliers to sign the code of conduct, acknowledging that they would follow the principles set and failure to comply with the code of conduct could result in the termination of the collaboration with the Supplier. Rudolph Care currently is in the process of implementing due diligence for its suppliers to ensure ongoing risk assessments, and processes for follow-up on plan for risk management strategies in alignment with OECD's guidelines for Multinational Enterprises (MNEs) and the due diligence guidance.
