Disclosure Report
Date Submitted: August, 2023

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Animal Testing

Topic	Company is required to undergo mandatory animal testing by law in China
Summary of Issue	Jurlique is a manufacturer that produces personal care and beauty that are required to be tested on animals under law as a condition of approval to sell the products in China.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	0% of Jurlique products are tested on animals during the product development process. This is the same as all previous years. 100% of the company products which are sold in China undergo animal testing as part of China's product registration process. This is the same as previous years.
Impact on Stakeholders	Animal testing and experimentation is widely used to develop new agricultural products and to test the safety of other products. Many of these experiments can cause pain to the animals involved or reduce their quality of life in other ways.
Implemented Management Practices	Jurlique has always believed passionately in providing our consumers with highly effective, potent skin care products, developed with respect for our environment and without the use of animal testing. We adhere to the strict requirements of the European Cosmetics Directive (76/768 ECC) and the European Commission Regulation (1223/2009), which prohibits the commissioning and testing on animals, of products and ingredients, for the purpose of developing new cosmetic products. Our skin care products are tested on consenting human volunteers by means of a "Cumulative Irritation Test" which determines the irritation and/or sensitization potential of a product after repeated application to the skin of human subjects. We do not test our cosmetic and therapeutic products on animals as part of our product development process, we do not outsource this activity to any third parties, nor have we ever included animal testing in our product development process in the past. We work closely with our ingredient vendors to ensure they are aware of our company values and policies. We continue to adhere to the strict requirements of global cosmetic

	regulations regarding animal testing, with utmost respect for our customers and environment. In China, local laws and regulations require that “general cosmetics”, subject to certain exemptions, and “special cosmetics” imported into China undergo animal testing to demonstrate consumer safety, as part of China’s product registration process. China’s National Medical Products Administration has recently approved non-animal testing alternatives for the registration of “general cosmetics” where certain criteria can be met. Jurlique welcomes the introduction of alternatives to animal testing for general cosmetics and is working towards implementing the measures necessary to enable it to use these alternative testing methods. Animal testing is still required by law in China for the registration of “special cosmetics”, however, Jurlique is hopeful that alternative testing methods for these products will also be available in China soon.
