Faryn Clark

CEO and creator of opportunities

Faryn is a serial entrepreneur focused on purpose-driven, social impact businesses that will improve the lives of others. She traveled through Mexico from a young age and has always been in love with Mexican culture and artistry. As a Cabo resident, she realized it didn't have the rich culture that other historical cities had so she sought out a way to bring the culture and heritage of Mexico to Baja. What started as a hobby ended up becoming a thriving business. She was seeking an opportunity to be part of something philanthropic that has now become a collection of businesses that all have a social impact.

Faryn founded Eclectic Array in 2015, an ethical fashion brand currently operating in 10 locations, including ultra-luxury resorts like Montage, Four Seasons, St Regis, Hyatt, and Maravilla between others. She created Meraki Objects in 2017 a purposeful gifting brand with various market experiences and sales reaching 10 million dollars in 2022. The brand continues to expand with a wholesale division, a growing international positioning online, and three new boutiques to open in 2023.

Some of the boutiques have been voted best boutique by "IN MEXICO Magazine" and "Destino Magazine".

Her companies work with +300 groups of artisans across Mexico to give fair trade, and sustainable opportunities that provide living wages. Transforming lives one artisan at a time.

A true love for Mexico

Faryn moved from Dallas, TX to Cabo San Lucas, Mexico with her husband and three boys.

They chose to move to Mexico for their children to have a more diverse and cultural upbringing.

While traveling, improving their Spanish, and living a different paced life, she fell even further in love with the people, the culture and the art.

She had always loved the beautiful artistry in Mexico and then started traveling across several regions of Mexico to explore, find products and artisans to open the first Eclectic Array store in May 2016.
