Level of Impact Focus

Describe your company's approach to creating positive impact.

This is an unweighted question that will not impact your score and is asked only for research/benchmarking purposes.

Creating positive social or environmental impact is not a focus for our business

We occasionally think about the social and environmental impact of some aspects of our business, but not frequently.

We frequently consider our social and environmental impact, but it isn't a high priority in decision-making.

We consistently incorporate social and environmental impact into decision-making because we consider it important to the success and profitability of our business.

We treat our social and environmental impact as a primary measure of success for our business and prioritize it even in cases where it may not drive profitability.

Mission Statement Characteristics

Does your company's formal, written corporate mission statement include any of the following?

A formal written corporate mission statement is one that is either publicly facing or formally shared with the employees of the company. Please check all that apply.

☐ No social or environmental commitment

A general commitment to social or environmental responsibility (e.g. to conserve the environment)

A commitment to a specific positive social impact (e.g. poverty alleviation, sustainable economic development)

A commitment to a specific positive environmental impact (e.g. reducing waste sent to landfills through upcycled products)

A commitment to serve a target beneficiary group in need (e.g. low-income customers, smallholder farmers)

We have no written mission statement

Travel is about experiencing the world and creating unforgettable memories, but always in a responsible way. For over 25 years, we've been committed to building a fair and inclusive world. We believe it's important that money from travel ends up where it belongs: by local communities. That's why we aim to generate as much local income as possible, so the people at the destination truly benefit from our trips. We also know that travel has a negative environmental impact. That's why we're determined to reduce our ecological footprint, so that future generations can keep discovering the world in the way we love to do.

- ☐ None of the above

Points Earned: 0.75 of 0.75

Identification of Material Issues

Based on the processes you have highlighted, what are the material issues that have been identified?

Our biggest challenge lies in ensuring that 85% of our costs end up locally on-site. At the moment, this is not yet the case, and we are working on it with our local partners. Another topic is that we want to increase our share of customers traveling within Europe to 50% by 2035. Currently, that share is 22.2%. In addition, we are committed to the Paris Climate Agreement: by 2030 we will reduce the average emissions per traveler by 50%.

A competitor filed a complaint with the Dutch Advertising Code Committee, claiming that our Flexcare offer is a "fake package with a made-up discount and deadline," arguing that it is unclear what the package includes, why it is valued at €250, and why a deadline is mentioned. We firmly reject this. Flexcare was introduced to give travelers extra flexibility in uncertain situations not covered by standard terms. The deadline simply reflects that the offer is reviewed on a monthly basis. The value indication represents a realistic estimate of the costs we cover when travelers make use of Flexcare. The content of the package is clearly explained, and customers actually value it highly, as shown by positive reviews. The advertisement is therefore neither misleading nor in violation of the Dutch Advertising Code.
