

DISCLOSURE MATERIALS

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire and B Lab deems them to be material, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue.
- 3) Demonstrate that management systems are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to background checks by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

This document contains a copy of the company's completed Disclosure Questionnaire and related disclosure documentation provided by the company.

Suppliers in Conflict Zones
Aveda Corporation has part of their supply chain based in conflict affected areas of Venezuela and Israel.
Aveda Corporation is a personal care company that supplies part of their raw materials and legal services from Israel, Venezuela and Mexico.Venezuela is in the List of Fragile and Conflict-affected Situations of the World Bank of 2022. Israel is classified as conflict zone by the Council on Foreign Affairs due to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.
Less than 1% of the company's expenses were with suppliers located in conflict affected areas in 2021.
As per the OECD, conflict zones are often characterized by widespread human rights abuses and violations of national or international law.
Aveda Corporation claims that all their suppliers are required to sign a Code of Conduct and/or Third Party ESG assessments (EcoVadis). The Code outlines their expectations on quality, health and safety, environment, labor conditions and human rights — including zerotolerance policy regarding prisoners, slave labor and human trafficking. They also have an ongoing audit process that includes independent third party assessment.
