

Danone Group

Brand Guideline and List

Danone, as a company with over $5 billion in revenue, was required to have at least 95 percent of the business's operations¹ assessed through the B Impact Assessment using a bottom-up approach. Each assessment achieved an overall score above 80 points, meeting the requirement for certification.

As the B Corporation Certification is a company-level certification, the certification approach included completion of the global headquarters version of the assessment, along with 72 separate B Impact Assessments for clusters and subsidiaries in which Danone holds more than 50% ownership and has controlling interest.

Brand Guideline

The B Corp certification is a company-level certification, and not a product, brand, nor division certification. Therefore, the use of the B Corp IP for individual brands refers to the company's certification.

Brands or entities with a different name from the Certified Parent must undergo a Brand Review and independently achieve the 80-point threshold in order to use the B Corp intellectual property. Co-branded or licensed products with non-certified companies are not permitted to use the B Corp IP. All use of the B Corp IP must comply with B Lab's guidelines.
