Level of Impact Focus

Points Earned: 0.17 of 0.17

Describe your company's approach to creating positive impact.

This is an unweighted question that will not impact your score and is asked only for research/benchmarking purposes. Ocreating positive social or environmental impact is not a focus for our business Owe occasionally think about the social and environmental impact of some aspects of our business, but not frequently. O We frequently consider our social and environmental impact, but it isn't a high priority in decision-making. We consistently incorporate social and environmental impact into decision-making because we consider it important to the success and profitability of our business. We treat our social and environmental impact as a primary measure of success for our business and prioritize it even in cases where it may not drive profitability. Points Available: 0.00 Mission Statement Characteristics Does your company's formal, written corporate mission statement include any of the following? A formal written corporate mission statement is one that is either publicly facing or formally shared with the employees of the company. Please check all that apply. ☐ No social or environmental commitment A general commitment to social or environmental responsibility (e.g. to conserve the environment) A commitment to a specific positive social impact (e.g. poverty alleviation, sustainable economic development) A commitment to a specific positive environmental impact (e.g. reducing waste sent to landfills through upcycled products) A commitment to serve a target beneficiary group in need (e.g. low-income customers, smallholder farmers) ☐ We have no written mission statement

Mission Statement

Please share the text of your formal mission statement here.

"Unfolding health and beauty in harmony with nature and the human being." - "We see health and beauty as dynamic development processes. In this respect, Weleda is an enabler at supply level and supports people in letting their health and beauty unfold. Unfolding is also related to the active principles of substance transformation. Clear expression of Weleda's holistic approach: health and beauty are inextricably linked. Health is an ongoing process, beauty is an expression of spirituality. Expression of the connection between people and nature, and at the same time a clear commitment to ecological, economic and social sustainability." "We depend on nature as our source of business. We recognise our responsibility in this symbiotic relationship. Since over 100 years we practice biodynamic agriculture, actively pioneering regenerative business practices"

Identification of Material Issues

Based on the processes you have highlighted, what are the material issues that have been identified?

Product Development and Products: Weleda emphasizes the importance of developing products that are not only effective but also respectful of nature's rhythms. Their approach to beauty and healthcare products is holistic, integrating pomegranate and maca root peptides for their antioxidant and regenerative properties, which illustrates a commitment to biodiversity and sustainable sourcing. Management and Finance: The company practices financial resilience and future viability, embodying a balance between growth and sustainability, as shown by their investments in eco-friendly infrastructure, such as a new logistics center that meets the highest sustainability standards. Regenerative Farming and Biodiversity: Weleda actively supports organic cultivation and biodiversity enhancement, as seen in their projects like "Save Earth's Skin" which parallels soil health to skin health, and their support for biodynamic farming methods. Respectful Supply Chain: The company's dedication to a respectful supply chain is evident in their support for soil health, ethical sourcing, and preservation of biodiversity, with initiatives that are mindful of resource cycles and promote sustainable wild collection practices. Sustainable Sites, Production, and Logistics: Weleda's actions to create sustainable sites and logistics, such as building a logistics center that runs entirely on renewable energy, underscore their commitment to reducing operational emissions and embracing clean energy. Development of Environmental Indicators: The company focuses on improving environmental performance indicators like energy, water, and waste intensity, reflecting an ongoing commitment to resource efficiency. Meaningful and Effective Work: Weleda fosters a work environment that prioritizes personal and professional development, work-life balance, and health and diversity, reflecting an understanding of sustainability that includes human and social dimensions. Cultural and Social Relationships and Development: The company supports cultural and social initiatives, such as the Living Soil Camp, which aligns with their commitment to education for sustainable development and community engagement. Climate Protection: Weleda's carbon neutrality initiative and investments in climate protection projects represent a strong commitment to combating climate change and supporting biodiversity and soil health.

Innovative Charitable Giving Practices

Is there something different or innovative about the company's approach to charitable-giving that has changed the industry? Is this something replicable, unique at the time it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Please explain.

Weleda sees itself as a supporting pillar of the anthroposophical values community and therefore follows the anthroposophical concept of social threefolding in its commitment (see: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Social_threefolding). This common good-oriented innovative concept has inspired many entrepreneurs, scientists, activists and politicians over the last 100 years.

Environment Impact Area Introduction

This section asks about your environmental footprint to determine which questions are applicable later on in the assessment. It also identifies whether your company's product/service is designed to deliver a specific, material, positive environmental impact, and if so, opens the Environmental Impact Business Model section that is most applicable.

Environmental Business Model

Are your company's products/services or processes structured to restore or preserve the environment in any of the following ways? (Please note: the environmental impact of your day-to-day operations will be assessed in the remaining sections of the Environment Impact Area. This question is specifically asking about your products/services or innovative production processes.)

Answering affirmatively will opt you into additional sections of the B Impact Assessment with more specific questions about this Impact Business Model.

Through an innovative manufacturing, wholesale or agriculture process which is designed to significantly reduce environmental impact compared to typical practices for the industry

Through a product or service that preserves, conserves, or restores the environment or resources

None of the above

Description of Positive Environmental Product / Service Impact

How would you describe the positive outcome for the environment created by your product/service?

Natural and organic cosmetics, along with anthroposophic pharmaceuticals, are crafted from natural ingredients, significantly reducing reliance on synthetic products. These products diminish the presence of substances that adversely affect water, soil, plants, animals, biodiversity, and overall environmental health. This approach not only promotes a healthier ecosystem but also supports sustainable practices that benefit both nature and human well-being.

Environmental Product or Service Impact

Is the environmental impact you've described part of your products' or services' impact (excluding packaging), or is it a part of the way that your company operates?

Companies should earn revenue from the product or service that has an environmental impact. Please do not include pro bono efforts within this section.

• The impact is created by a revenue-generating product/service line (e.g. selling non-toxic cleaning products, sustainability consultancy)

The impact is created by the company's daily operations (e.g. using non-toxic cleaning products in the company's headquarters) and not the core product/service

Environmental Product Benefits

In what way or ways does your product/service conserve the environment?

Please select ONE option per product line. You may select an additional option if your product line has two separate environmental attributes.
Provides or is powered by renewable energy or cleaner-burning energy than market alternatives (e.g. solar panel manufacturers/installers, hybrid vehicles)
Conserves or diverts resources (including energy, water, materials, etc.)
Conserves or preserves the well-being of land and/or animals (e.g. land protection or reforestation services, sustainably harvested agricultural products) ☑ Reduces or is made of less toxic/hazardous substances (e.g. brownfield remediation services, organic certified food, non-toxic cleaners) ✓ Educates, measures, researches, or provides information to solve environmental problems (e.g. environmental consulting or auditing)

Land/wildlife Conservation Overview

Tell us more about how your product or service conserves natural resources

Weleda's approach to conserving natural resources emphasizes the integration of biodynamic farming techniques that benefit both land and wildlife. By supporting farmers with training and inputs for biodynamic cultivation, Weleda helps maintain soil health and biodiversity. This includes developing innovative cultivation techniques that allow for the preservation of wild species and areas dedicated to wild growth. These practices not only enhance the sustainability of the farmland but also contribute to the broader ecological balance, underscoring Weleda's commitment to land and wildlife conservation. Weleda's products are made with 81% organic content and the innovative applied processes for composting and for water management are deployed along Weleda's supply chain.

Direct Impact on Land / Wildlife Conservation

Is land/wildlife conservation, beyond what is required by law, a direct positive environmental impact of your product or service?

Answering affirmatively will opt you into additional sections of the B Impact Assessment with more specific questions about this Impact Business Model.

Yes

O No, it is an indirect result of one of the other answers selected in the question "Environmental Product Benefits"

Toxin / Pollution Reduction Overview

Tell us more about how your product or service reduces use of toxic or hazardous substances, prevents pollution or remediates discharges to air, land or water

Weleda's dedication to reducing the use of toxic or hazardous substances, preventing pollution, and remediating discharges to air, land, or water is evident in their holistic approach to product development, supply chain management, and operational practices. This comprehensive approach aligns with their commitment to sustainability and respect for nature, as detailed in their annual and sustainability reports for 2022 and 2023. Reduction of Toxic or Hazardous Substances: Weleda ensures that their products do not contain microplastics or other persistent substances that pollute water. By maximizing the use of raw materials from organic cultivation (81% organic content), Weleda avoids contributing pesticides to groundwater. This commitment to using safe, natural, and organic ingredients significantly reduces the potential for environmental contamination and harm to human health. Prevention of Pollution: Weleda invests in efficient water management and utilizes highly efficient equipment in their production facilities. These investments enhance the sustainability of their manufacturing processes and help prevent pollution. Additionally, Weleda supports social projects such as building wells in Uganda and promoting certified organic and biodynamic cultivation of Arnica in Romania and Rosemary in France. They also explore resource-conserving irrigation options in regions facing water scarcity, further underlining their commitment to preventing pollution and conserving natural resources. Remediation of Discharges: The company's efforts to remediate discharges to air, land, or water are part of their broader commitment to environmental sustainability. By adhering to standards such as the Union for Ethical BioTrade (UEBT) certification or Demeter certified materials, Weleda ensures that their procurement practices respect people and biodiversity, contributing positively to the environment.

Direct Impact on Less Toxic or Toxin Remediation

Is being less toxic or providing toxin remediation, beyond what is required by law, a direct positive environmental impact of your product or service?

Answering affirmatively will opt you into additional sections of the B Impact Assessment with more specific questions about this Impact Business Model.

O No, it is an indirect result of one of the other answers selected in the question "Environmental Product Benefits"

Environmental Education / Information Overview

Tell us more about how your product or service educates, quantifies, or provides strategic advise to solve environmental problems

Weleda's approach to solving environmental problems through education, strategic advice, and quantification is multifaceted and encompasses various impactful projects: Education and Awareness: The MUNDI initiative, founded with the municipality of Schwäbisch Gmünd, targets sustainable development through school and extracurricular activities, focusing on diversity and inclusion. It teaches resilience, health, and ecological awareness, equipping young people to positively shape the future. With 15'000 subscribers the Magazine Hebammenforum provides awareness for parents. Weleda also collaborates with midwives who offer insights on childcare, leveraging their expertise to further educate the community about natural health care practices and sustainability in product use. Quantitative Impact: Weleda has specific metrics to showcase the reach of their efforts, such as distributing 830,000 samples of pregnancy and baby care products in Germany in 2023 alone. This extensive distribution demonstrates their commitment to widespread sustainable practices. Another example is They also the treatment of 4000 m³ of rosemary plant remains with a special composting machine, transforming them into natural fertilizer that enhances soil resilience. Strategic Agricultural Advice: Weleda's own gardens across six countries emphasize biodynamic and organic cultivation, protecting biodiversity and enhancing soil health. They provide hands-on guidance and support to global farmers, promoting techniques like composting to improve soil fertility and resilience, as seen in their projects with Romanian Arnica and French Rosemary.

Innovative Land/wildlife Conservation

Is there something different or innovative about the product/service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Weleda's approach to land conservation is characterized by its innovative use of biodynamic farming techniques, which consider farms as whole ecosystems. This strategy emphasizes the natural cycles of soil, plants, and animals to create a sustainable farming environment that avoids synthetic chemicals. Key innovations include natural compost and soil treatments that enrich soil health and conserve water. Moreover, Weleda's commitment to maintaining biodiverse medicinal herb gardens mitigates land conversion, preserving natural habitats. These practices not only lead to high-quality raw materials but also establish Weleda as a model for sustainability in the industry, encouraging others to adopt similar methods. This holistic integration of economic and ecological goals in projects involving Romanian Arnica, Moroccan Roses, and French Rosemary further exemplifies their leadership in sustainable agricultural management. Weleda has UEBT (the Union for Ethical BioTrade) certification: new partnerships comply with organic requirements and fulfil social and ecological demands, furthermore - chair, representation on several committees as well as UEBT management system for the entire supply chains of natural raw materials in the natural and organic cosmetics area. In 2018, Weleda became the first European brand to be awarded the Union for Ethical Biotrade (UEBT) certificate for ethical raw material sourcing. Eight proprietary medicinal plant gardens worldwide (Germany, largest biodynamic garden in Europe; Switzerland; France; England; Netherlands; Brazil; Argentina; New Zealand), biodynamic management, habitat for plant and animal species, promotion of biodiversity. More than 90% of raw materials used in Weleda fulfill the requrements of ogranic certification.

Innovative Toxin Reduction / Remediation

Is there something different or innovative about the company's basic product or service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

In the area of Innovative Toxin Reduction / Remediation, Weleda's commitment to producing products without synthetic chemicals and pollutants has set them apart in the industry. Their stringent adherence to NATRUE standards for natural and organic products means they avoid ingredients that could contribute to toxicity in the environment, leading the way in cleaner, safer cosmetic and pharmaceutical products. This approach is not only replicable but has also inspired other brands to prioritize non-toxic ingredients. Most importantly: Weleda's innovative approach to toxin reduction in their products goes beyond the use of natural ingredients. They have developed patented active ingredient complexes that improve skin health without relying on harmful chemicals. Their use of biodegradable and natural ingredients, such as phyto squalane from olives and the absence of microplastics, sets a high standard for sustainability. An example is, their products featuring the Collagen+ Active Complex harness the natural properties of blue gentian, edelweiss, and tiger grass, which are known to support skin's collagen production naturally. This method not only reduces the reliance on synthetic additives but also enhances product efficacy, setting a new standard for natural cosmetics that combine efficacy with environmental responsibility. This holistic approach to product formulation and commitment to non-toxic ingredients has influenced other companies in the cosmetics industry to explore and adopt greener formulations.

Innovative Environmental Education/Information

Is there something different or innovative about the product/service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Weleda's multifaceted approach to environmental education spans from community education to strategic agricultural guidance. Their MUNDI initiative collaborates with schools to teach young people about ecological awareness, resilience, and health, emphasizing diversity and inclusion. Additionally, Weleda leverages their network of biodynamic gardens globally as educational hubs where visitors engage directly with sustainable agriculture practices. They also provide specific training to suppliers and farmers, disseminating knowledge about biodynamic farming and resource management to ensure industry-wide adoption of sustainable methods. This comprehensive strategy has proven influential, inspiring similar initiatives across various industries.

Education Product/Service Overview

Please tell us more about how your product or service promotes education or professional development and advancement.

In the context of supporting customers Weleda engages in educational initiatives aimed at supporting its customers and the broader community through a comprehensive approach to health, wellness, and environmental stewardship. For example: Midwifery and Women's Health: Weleda has established a dedicated midwifery department that has been actively involved in maternity care and women's health for over 40 years. This department not only provides recommendations for baby care products but also plays a pioneering role in developing products for pregnant women and children. This includes organizing events and publishing a magazine with over 15,000 subscribers to disseminate valuable health information. Sustainable Living Education: Under the banner of MUNDI, an educational initiative founded by Weleda and the municipality of Schwäbisch Gmünd, the company aims to promote sustainable development among young people. This initiative involves workshops and excursions that focus on ecological awareness, resilience, and health, encouraging participants to view their challenges with a mindset geared towards shaping a sustainable future. Enhanced Customer Education and Engagement: Weleda offers educational programs and workshops that further our customers' understanding of the benefits of organic and natural products and the principles of complementary medicine. These initiatives empower customers to make informed health and lifestyle choices.

Innovative Health Products

Is there something different or innovative about the company's health product/service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Weleda stands as a pioneering force in the health industry, distinguishing itself through a long-standing commitment to anthroposophic principles since its inception in 1921. As the first company to adopt this approach, Weleda set a foundational example that has influenced numerous successful enterprises, including Alnatura, Sonett, Wala, GLS Bank, Triodos Bank, dm, Neuguss, among others, many of which are headquartered in Germany. Weleda's innovative approach integrates a holistic perspective to medicine and wellness, emphasizing the treatment of the whole person rather than isolated symptoms. This philosophy has significantly shaped societal attitudes towards health and wellness, promoting a deeper understanding of the interconnectedness between human health and nature. Our products, which range from natural medicines to cosmetics, are developed in a symbiotic relationship with the environment, supporting not only the healing of the body as a whole but also fostering the body's intrinsic self-healing capabilities. This holistic model has been replicated and adapted by various organizations, demonstrating its scalability and continued relevance. Weleda's impact extends beyond mere commercial success; it strives to effect positive change in society, focusing on well-being over profit and inclusivity over exclusivity. In essence, Weleda is more than just a company—it is an integral part of a societal shift towards more sustainable and conscious living, making it a unique and transformative presence in the industry.

Regarding Animal Testing: Weleda is committed to the highest ethical standards in all aspects of our operations, including pharmaceutical drug development and maintenance within our Business Unit Pharma. The safety and efficacy of our products are paramount, not only to meet regulatory requirements but also to ensure the health and well-being of patients treated by healthcare professionals. To this end, Weleda engages in both clinical and non-clinical studies, with a strong preference for in vitro or cell-free methods, reflecting our commitment to minimizing animal testing. Despite advancements in technology, replicating the complexity of living organisms through in vitro models remains a challenge. Therefore, on rare occasions and as a last resort, animal studies may be conducted to provide conclusive evidence of efficacy for healthcare stakeholders, including physicians. Such studies are only pursued when no suitable non-animal alternatives are available and are recognized by regulatory authorities. When animal testing is deemed necessary, Weleda collaborates with specialized contract research organizations that adhere to stringent national and international standards, such as ICH or ISO 10993/GLP/animal welfare, as well as legislation including the Swiss legal regulations and European Directive 2010/63/EU. These organizations are mandated to comply with the 3Rs principles (Replacement, Reduction, and Refinement) and uphold the highest standards of animal welfare. Our internal scientists work diligently with third-party experts to design studies that align with the 3Rs principles, ensuring that any necessary animal testing is conducted responsibly and ethically. Weleda's commitment to animal welfare extends to our selection of contract research organizations, which must demonstrate not only expertise in their field but also a robust commitment to animal welfare practices. Weleda recognizes animals as sentient beings deserving of respect and protection. Consequently, we do not commission animal studies from entities outside regulated markets or those lacking proven animal welfare measures. This stance underscores our dedication to ethical practices and the well-being of all beings affected by our operations. Regarding zero-hour contracts: Weleda's employment model does not, in general, rely on zero-hour contracts form of employment. However, some Weleda AG entities (e.g. in The Netherlands) do utilize zero-hour contracts in specific, limited contexts to provide flexibility for both the company and exclusively vacation employees, typically young students seeking temporary work during their holiday periods. This approach allows us to offer employment opportunities to students looking for shortterm positions without the commitment of fixed hours, enabling them to balance acquiring work experience with their studies and personal commitments effectively. This practice is limited and carefully managed to ensure fairness and compliance with labor laws. Weleda is committed to ensuring that these contracts are used responsibly and ethically, providing fair terms and respecting the rights of our student-employees. While our use of zero-hour contracts is limited and targeted, we understand the importance of transparency in our employment practices and are committed to monitoring and reviewing these practices regularly to ensure they align with our values and the expectations of our stakeholders.

Regarding Litigation and Arbitration: Weleda is committed to operating with integrity and transparency in all aspects of our business. In keeping with this commitment, we wish to disclose and address inquiries regarding litigation and settlement agreements we have been involved in over the past five years in the United States. Copyright Infringement Issue (April 2021): We were notified that a nonpublic Weleda website inadvertently contained an image of a model for which our license had expired, leading to a copyright infringement claim. We promptly addressed this issue by entering a settlement agreement in June 2021, compensating the model $2,500. This matter has been fully resolved, and we have taken steps to prevent such occurrences in the future. Late Payment Wages Complaint (October 2021): A complaint was filed alleging late payment of wages by a model hired for a photoshoot organized and paid for by a third-party agency on Weleda's behalf. Weleda had fulfilled our financial obligation to the agency promptly upon invoice receipt, and the agency subsequently settled the lawsuit in January 2022. Weleda was not found liable, as the responsibility rested with the agency. This case has also been concluded. Potential Class Action Regarding Product Claim (October 2022): We received a notice of a potential class action related to the French translation of our Cellulite Body Oil packaging. The concern was that the translation might imply a guarantee of curing cellulite. This matter did not progress to a formal lawsuit; instead, we reached a settlement in January 2023, agreeing to pay $25,000 to avoid litigation and address the complainant's concerns proactively. This issue is now closed, and we have reviewed our product labeling to ensure clarity and compliance with regulatory standards. We also confirm that a litigation case from 2019 has been settled and is now closed, with the Settlement Agreement available for review. These instances reflect Weleda's dedication to resolving disputes swiftly and fairly, always aiming to uphold our high standards of ethics and compliance. We remain committed to learning from these experiences to enhance our operational practices and ensure such matters are addressed effectively and in alignment with our values. Regarding Financial Reporting/Fines: Weleda undergoes regular tax audits in Germany every three years as part of our standard financial oversight process. These audits are routine and not the result of any exceptional circumstances. In recent years, minor charges have been assessed during these audits, primarily related to the capitalization of expenses. It's important to note that these charges reflect differences in timing rather than fundamental financial discrepancies or errors. These minor assessments are part of the normal course of our financial operations and compliance efforts. Regarding Recalls: 2 international recalls: Hepatodoron and Vitis comp (2 brand names for one product) in 2023. 2023 Weleda was affected by the Hepotodoron/Vitis comp. recall that was caused by a contract manufacturer in Germany and which affected a few Weleda markets globally. It involved the following countries: Finished products: Germany, Austria, Switzerland, USA, Italy, Netherlands; Czech Republic; Finland; Georgia; Hungary; Israel; Latvia, Norway Tablets: New Zealand, UK, Netherlands Tablet concentrate: Argentina Milled herbal drugs: Brazil Due to the discovery of (1) one metal particle of approximately 1 mm in length found in one tablet of a different batch of Hepatodoron tablets at a partner manufacturing facility, and (2) one metal particle of approximately 6 mm in length in a concentrate used to make the tablets. The recall is officially closed. As a preventive measure a metal check was installed. Not all countries had to perform a recall. Esp. the countries receiving non-finished good could test the material with a metal detector. USA: Weleda discovered no products affected in North America, and has received no complaints related to the Hepatodoron tablets. The recall was officially closed on December 13, 2023 via a notification email from the FDA. This recall is officially closed and the relevant notification from the FDA is attached and has been uploaded to the linked folder. Italy: Recalls due to quality control issues: in 2023, as other countries, Weleda Italy need to recall a product, Hepatodoron (in Italy called VItadoron). (Check e info about this directly from Weleda AG - Quality) April 2023: Product recalled due to quality control issues as per other countries, Weleda New Zealand need to recall product, Hepatodoron. Recall Closed International recall cosmetics 2022: Germany, Austria, Bosnien und Herzegowina, Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Georgien, Hong Kong, Hungary, Italy, Lithuania, People's Republic of China, Poland,

Romania, Russia, Serbian republic, Slowenia, Turkey, Ukraine; As a precaution, Weleda AG was recalling the few lots of article Weleda Calendula Baby Oil, perfume-free, 200 Background: It could not be ruled out that few individual bottles contain small amounts of water in which microorganisms may grow. The oil is not an oral product but a purely topically applied cosmetic. The risk of a health impact is low, it could facilitate infections in sensitive consumers or consumers with low immunity, especially babies and young children. We therefore considered it appropriate to recall the designated batches as a precautionary measure and as it is not compatible with our high standards of product quality and the quality values of Weleda AG. This recall was discussed and checked by the Swiss and German authorities. Concerning the level of recall due to risk: this was also discussed, checked and agreed upon by the German national authority Landratsamt Ostalbkreis/District Office Ostalbkreis. Others: Weleda Germany, 2019 Plantago-Primula cum Hyoscyamo, Ampoules, Ch.-B. E0411, F0511, The reason for the recall was that ampoules contained suspended particles. Triggered by a complaint with this error pattern, the existing Ongoing Stability samples from 3 different batches were checked internally and a non-specification result was obtained for batch F0511. The batch from which the complaint sample came (E0411) was also recalled as a precautionary measure. Weleda Australia April 2019 - Issue - The recall was conducted because small, thread like (up to approximately 1cm long x less tha 1mm wide), soft, slivers of white plastic could peel off the jar cap upon first opening. This was due to the tight fit of the cap, in the jar. This presented a potential for physical contamination of the powder with mall slivers of plastic when opening the jar. Actions: Product was recalled from Distributors and destroyed. Webshop customers returned product and refunds issued. Case Closed Weleda New Zealand April 2019: The recall was conducted because small, thread like (up to approximately 1cm long x less tha 1mm wide), soft, slivers of white plastic could peel off the jar cap upon first opening. This was due to the tight fit of the cap, in the jar. This presented a potential for physical contamination of the powder with small slivers of plastic when opening the jar. Actions: Product was recalled from Distributors and destroyed. Webshop customers returned product and refunds issued. Recall Closed July 2019: Product recalled due to quality issues as per other countries. Weleda New Zeland need to recall product, Euphrasia Eye Ointment. Recall Closed. Regarding Customer Protection, Weleda answered NO as there is no case of real customer risk, nevertheless here are some disclosures for BLab information: Germany/Switzerland: We had complaints with regards to our food supplements, all minor cases without fines: 1. "Meine Haare Wimpern Nägel" (2022) on labelling issues. The main concern of selenium content was not confirmed, new labelling was adopted. 2. "Meine Vitalquelle" (2023): Main concern were also labeling issues which was at teh time of complaint already changed. Accusations on content of certain plant compounds were rightfully rejected. 3. "Meine Immunformel" and "Meine Vitalquelle" (2021) had to be recalled due to them containing Etylenoxide. The products was produced from a contract manfacturer. The legal court procedure is still ongoing, but we are demanding compensation for the losses suffered. (Answered by Mr Himpel/Legal) UK: In 2023, a Food Supplement (Prunus Elixir) packaging was observed by our regulatory agency Trading Standards to not meet marketing claims due to no substantiation of claims and we had to remove "organic" off the front of the pack as we did not hold an organic manufacturing license. No recall was required. In 2023, we had a complaint for a cosmetic (Skin Food Light) regarding product safety concerns for use after the expiry which was via Trading Standards. This complaint is currently ongoing. Regarding significant Layoff, Weleda answer is NO, nevertheless we submit the following information about operations in France: Regarding recent operational changes, Weleda France experienced the closure of pharmaceutical production on March 31, 2023, due to the delisting of medicines. This decision impacted more than 20% of our employees in France, involving 129 individuals in total. While significant on a local level, this change does not represent a significant percentage of our global workforce. We implemented a comprehensive social plan to support the affected employees, ensuring compensation exceeded the requirements of French legislation. This included additional bonuses negotiated in good faith with staff representatives and management, underscoring our commitment to responsible and supportive business practices during transitions.

Mission Statement

Please share the text of your formal mission statement here.

The main purpose and mission of Weleda has been last revised in 2021 by the BoD. Since then no changes in the purpose of the company are registered, although it's strategy and Environmental Mission has been updated. This purpose is inspired by anthroposophy and defined as "Unfolding health and beauty in harmony with nature and the human being."- In a more complete statement we can find in one of the attachements to this answer the following text: "We see health and beauty as dynamic development processes. In this respect, Weleda is an enabler at supply level and supports people in letting their health and beauty unfold. Unfolding is also related to the active principles of substance transformation. Clear expression of Weleda's holistic approach: health and beauty are inextricably linked. Health is an ongoing process, beauty is an expression of spirituality. Expression of the connection between people and nature, and at the same time a clear commitment to ecological, economic and social sustainability."

This section asks about your environmental footprint to determine which questions are applicable later on in the assessment. It also identifies whether your company's product/service is designed to deliver a specific, material, positive environmental impact, and if so, opens the Environmental Impact Business Model section that is most applicable.

Environmental Business Model

Are your company's products/services or processes structured to restore or preserve the environment in any of the following ways? (Please note: the environmental impact of your day-to-day operations will be assessed in the remaining sections of the Environment Impact Area. This question is specifically asking about your products/services or innovative production processes.)

Answering affirmatively will opt you into additional sections of the B Impact Assessment with more specific questions about this Impact Business Model.

Through an innovative manufacturing, wholesale or agriculture process which is designed to significantly reduce environmental impact compared to typical practices for the industry

Through a product or service that preserves, conserves, or restores the environment or resources

None of the above

Description of Positive Environmental Product / Service Impact

How would you describe the positive outcome for the environment created by your product/service?

Natural and organic cosmetics, along with anthroposophic pharmaceuticals, are crafted from natural ingredients, significantly reducing reliance on synthetic products. These products diminish the presence of substances that adversely affect water, soil, plants, animals, biodiversity, and overall environmental health. This approach not only promotes a healthier ecosystem but also supports sustainable practices that benefit both nature and human well-being.

Points Available: 0.00

Environmental Product or Service Impact

Is the environmental impact you've described part of your products' or services' impact (excluding packaging), or is it a part of the way that your company operates?

Companies should earn revenue from the product or service that has an environmental impact. Please do not include pro bono efforts within this section.

• The impact is created by a revenue-generating product/service line (e.g. selling non-toxic cleaning products, sustainability consultancy)

The impact is created by the company's daily operations (e.g. using non-toxic cleaning products in the company's headquarters) and not the core product/service

Points Available: 0.00

Environmental Product Benefits

In what way or ways does your product/service conserve the environment?

Please select ONE option per product line. You may select an additional option if your product line has two separate environmental attributes.

Provides or is powered by renewable energy or cleaner-burning energy than market alternatives (e.g. solar panel manufacturers/installers, hybrid vehicles)

Conserves or diverts resources (including energy, water, materials, etc.)

Conserves or preserves the well-being of land and/or animals (e.g. land protection or reforestation services, sustainably harvested agricultural products)

Reduces or is made of less toxic/hazardous substances (e.g. brownfield remediation services, organic certified food, non-toxic cleaners)

Educates, measures, researches, or provides information to solve environmental problems (e.g. environmental consulting or auditing)

Land/wildlife Conservation Overview

Tell us more about how your product or service conserves natural resources

Weleda's approach to conserving natural resources emphasizes the integration of biodynamic farming techniques that benefit both land and wildlife. By supporting farmers with training and inputs for biodynamic cultivation, Weleda helps maintain soil health and biodiversity. This includes developing innovative cultivation techniques that allow for the preservation of wild species and areas dedicated to wild growth. These practices not only enhance the sustainability of the farmland but also contribute to the broader ecological balance, underscoring Weleda's commitment to land and wildlife conservation. Weleda's products are made with 81% organic content and the innovative applied processes for composting and for water management are deployed along Weleda's supply chain.

Innovative Land/wildlife Conservation

Is there something different or innovative about the product/service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Weleda's approach to land conservation is characterised by its innovative use of biodynamic farming techniques, which consider farms as whole ecosystems. This strategy emphasizes the natural cycles of soil, plants, and animals to create a sustainable farming environment that avoids synthetic chemicals. Key innovations include natural compost and soil treatments that enrich soil health and conserve water. Moreover, Weleda's commitment to maintaining biodiverse medicinal herb gardens mitigates land conversion, preserving natural habitats. These practices not only lead to high-quality raw materials but also establish Weleda as a model for sustainability in the industry, encouraging others to adopt similar methods. This holistic integration of economic and ecological goals in projects involving Romanian Arnica, Moroccan Roses, and French Rosemary further exemplifies their leadership in sustainable agricultural management. Weleda has UEBT (the Union for Ethical BioTrade) certification: new partnerships comply with organic requirements and fulfil social and ecological demands, furthermore - chair, representation on several committees as well as UEBT management system for the entire supply chains of natural raw materials in the natural and organic cosmetics area. In 2018, Weleda became the first European brand to be awarded the Union for Ethical Biotrade (UEBT) certificate for ethical raw material sourcing. Eight proprietary medicinal plant gardens worldwide (Germany, largest biodynamic garden in Europe; Switzerland; France; England; Netherlands; Brazil; Argentina; New Zealand), biodynamic management, habitat for plant and animal species, promotion of biodiversity. More than 80% of raw materials used in Weleda fulfil the requirements of organic certification.

Innovative Toxin Reduction / Remediation

Is there something different or innovative about the company's basic product or service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

In the area of Innovative Toxin Reduction / Remediation, Weleda's commitment to producing products without synthetic chemicals and pollutants has set them apart in the industry. Their stringent adherence to NATRUE standards for natural and organic products means they avoid ingredients that could contribute to toxicity in the environment, leading the way in cleaner, safer cosmetic and pharmaceutical products. This approach is not only replicable but has also inspired other brands to prioritize non-toxic ingredients. Most importantly: Weleda's innovative approach to toxin reduction in their products goes beyond the use of natural ingredients. They have developed patented active ingredient complexes that improve skin health without relying on harmful chemicals. Their use of biodegradable and natural ingredients, such as phyto squalane from olives and the absence of microplastics, sets a high standard for sustainability. An example is, their products featuring the Collagen+ Active Complex harness the natural properties of blue gentian, edelweiss, and tiger grass, which are known to support skin's collagen production naturally. This method not only reduces the reliance on synthetic additives but also enhances product efficacy, setting a new standard for natural cosmetics that combine efficacy with environmental responsibility. This holistic approach to product formulation and commitment to non-toxic ingredients has influenced other companies in the cosmetics industry to explore and adopt greener formulations.

Customers Impact Area Introduction

This section identifies whether your company's product/service is designed to deliver a specific, material, positive impact for its customers (beyond the value normally provided from goods or services), and if so, opens the Customer Impact Business Model section that is most applicable.

Customer Impact Business Model Introduction

Do any of your company's products/services address a social or economic problem for your customers and/or their beneficiaries?

Your answers determine which future questions in the assessment are applicable to your company.

O No

Points Available: 0.00

Customer Focus of Product or Service

Is the social or economic problem addressed by your product/service one that is faced directly by your customers and/or your clients' beneficiaries?

If you answer "No" here, be sure to revisit the Environment and/or Community sections to ensure your business model impact is appropriately captured.

O No, customers support in our ability to produce a positive social/economic impact, but the primary beneficiaries are other stakeholders (i.e. we donate to charities based on sales to customers, we sell fair trade products to our customers, we sell environmentally beneficial products to our customers)

Positive Impact of Product/Service

How would you describe the positive outcome for customers created by your product/service?

Our NOC products and brand presence in Chile are currently focused on building awareness. As a niche brand, we are dedicated to educating the market about the authenticity of natural cosmetics, underscoring our corporate values, and reinforcing our global presence. These efforts are pivotal, especially as the entrance of other certified brands has empowered consumers to more effectively distinguish authentic products and recognize the prevalence of greenwashing in Latin America. Moreover, our educational initiatives enable our audience to gain deeper insights into sustainable production processes, the meticulous handling of raw materials, and our strong commitment to diversity. Our impact is comprehensive: from cultivating our raw materials through biodynamic agriculture—which not only prevents soil pollution but also recycles unused materials as fertilizer—to our finished products that cause no harm to the environment upon disposal. We also manage the proper disposal and recycling of our packaging, ensuring we maintain our commitment to quality and effectiveness that enhances health and well-being. Alongside these efforts, we enhance health through complementary medicine and offer consultancy and support services for healthcare professionals. Our range of natural and organic cosmetic products promotes wellness and hygiene, while our effective communication strategies raise awareness and understanding of sustainable lifestyles, making a lasting impression on our consumers and the planet.

Innovative Health Products

Is there something different or innovative about the company's health product/service that has changed the industry? Is this something that is replicable, unique at the time that it was created, and that has been emulated by other organizations?

Weleda stands as a pioneering force in the realm of anthroposophic enterprises, having been established in 1921. As the first company inspired by anthroposophy, Weleda set a benchmark that many successful brands, including Alnatura, Sonett, Wala, GLS Bank, Triodos Bank, dm, and Neuguss—most headquartered in Germany—have followed. Without Weleda's influential presence, anthroposophic medicine and a holistic approach to human health and healing might not be as prominent as they are today. Weleda has significantly shaped societal views on consumption and wellness. The company's products, encompassing both medicine and cosmetics, are naturally derived and produced in harmony with nature. This approach doesn't just target specific ailments but supports the healing of the entire body, fostering its innate self-healing capabilities. This philosophy extends beyond products to influence broader societal attitudes, reflecting Weleda's holistic view of human health. Weleda's mission transcends conventional business objectives. It does not cater solely to a specific demographic but aims to bridge diverse groups within our increasingly segmented society. More than just a company, Weleda sees itself as an integral part of society, committed to making a positive impact on both people and nature. This commitment is driven by a service-oriented ethos, not merely the pursuit of profit, underscoring its unique standing in the corporate world.

Regarding Litigation: In 2023, our company in Argentina resolved two disputes through settlements. The first involved a former employee who, in 2020, brought forward unsubstantiated claims against us. The second case emerged from a personal separation between our agronomist and their partner, who subsequently filed an unsubstantiated claim related to alleged work done for Weleda. Both cases were settled through negotiations, despite being unsubstantiated claims.
