

DISCLOSURE MATERIALS

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire and B Lab deems them to be material, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue.
- 3) Demonstrate that management systems are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to background checks by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

This document contains a copy of the company's completed Disclosure Questionnaire and related disclosure documentation provided by the company.

acilities located in sensitive ecosystems
Ongoing
navilhanas is a hotel operates within and near areas classified as sensitive ecosystems.
The Anavilhanas hotel is located in Novo Airão (Amazonas- Brazil), facing the Anavilhanas lational Park, the second-largest river archipelago in the world. The region is sensitive both to auna and flora issues - land exploitation, deforestation, and pollution - and to social issues such s drug trafficking, violence, and poverty.
00% of company's operations are located in sensitive ecosystems. The company currently wns 520 hectares. The Lodge runs its operation in 2 distinct areas. The first, made up of 210 hectares of forest, was xpanded through successive purchases of areas until it reached the urban limits of the village of lovo Airão. The entire structure of rooms, restaurant, reception, swimming pool, service areas nd access occupies less than 1 hectare and is connected to the village of Novo Airão through he river or a small dirt road immersed in the forest. The second area, with approximately 310 ectares, is about 54 km away from the Lodge by the river, with no access by road and where the nly 2 built sets occupy less than 400m2 of area.
laving facilities near protected/sensitive ecosystems can potentially impact the flora, fauna and uality of the ecosystem (e.g. noise & light pollution from the facilities, spills, air / soil / water ollution owing to company's operations).
The operation of tours is not restricted to the area belonging to the Hotel. Vast areas of the inavilhanas National Park, the riverside communities of Tiririca and Santo Antonio, as well as surrounding creeks and rivers are covered daily by the Lodge's speedboats, which guarantee informal surveillance throughout the surroundings. The Lodge has access to environmental gencies such as ICMBIO (Federal environmental agency), IPAAM (State environmental agency) and SEMA-NA (Municipal Environment Secretariat) and has policies in place to activate the eporting channels where the company suspects illegal fishing, hunting or deforestation. The company claims that they have systematically purchased land around its current operation, with the aim to actively preserve it and prevent advances of agents that could put the areas at risk. The hotel has a sustainability department dedicated to finding opportunities for constant improvement in its social and environmental practices. In 2022, it started the Anavilhanas institute for Sustainable Development to expand the reach of its social and environmental actions in the region. The hotel's partners engage with local stakeholders on decision-making issues egarding their employees and customers, as well as the surrounding riverside communities, the ity of Novo Airão, and matters of social and environmental interest. Since mid-2022, in partnership with the NGO Onçafari, the Hotel has been installing camera traps long its trails and strategic points in order to monitor and map the wild fauna present in its areas. The NGO is committed to raising awareness through local guides and visits the hotel for animal dentification training and practices. The Hotel have already cataloged the presence of Jaguars, aras and several bird species. This collaboration will help to understand their habits, distribution and population.

	The company also priorities the hiring local guides, even with little or no experience in the job, to offer opportunity for those who face barriers to access work in legal activities.
MANAGEMENT COMMENTS	Both areas are intended for permanent preservation, associated with low-impact ecotourism activities, given that one of the main objectives and attractions of the Lodge is to present the Amazon Forest to visitors from different parts of the world.
