Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other - Clients in Controversial Industries

Topic	Clients in Controversial Industries
Summary of Issue	Company is a design company that has served clients operating in the alcohol and for-profit higher education industries. The company operates as a 'turn key' design and construction business, often delivering works from artistic concept through fabrication to completion under one contract; all services that can be sold to both controversial as well as non-controversial industries.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	The revenue from clients in the alcohol industry is 3.3% in FY17-18. The revenue from clients in the for-profit higher education industry is 17.03% in FY21-22.
Impact on Stakeholders	Companies that work with clients in controversial industries can indirectly increase the harmful impact to stakeholders by enabling business growth. Therefore, companies that work with clients in these industries should have practices in place to ensure that their impact is aimed at decreasing the negative impacts of the industry.  B Lab has flagged the involvement of companies with clients in controversial industries as a material issue and new standards will be created to address possible risks related to this matter.
Implemented Management Practices	The company would not work within following industries: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Defense or industries that directly produce offensive firearms or Weapons</li><li>• Fossil fuel extraction or refinement</li><li>• Industries that include a high risk of human rights violations</li><li>• Illegal products or services</li><li>• Recreational drugs (even if legal in the location served)</li><li>• Gambling</li><li>• Payday, Short Term, or High Interest Lending</li><li>• Pornography</li><li>• Tobacco or nicotine products.</li></ul> For the other industries, the company does due diligence in screening their clients and subcontractors before working with them to assess a potential client to ensure that their services are not used for harming people and the environment. The company does not require their clients to sign a code of conduct before working with them, but does not work with clients who do not comply with their code of conduct.
