How it started

1892 OUR FOUNDER, C.X. TRANCHEMONTAGNE

Charles-Xavier Tranchemontagne opens his import business of woolen material and cloths in Old Montreal.

The business then took the name of C.X. Tranchemontagne & Cie Ltée. It was the first francophone business to import fabrics into North America. The success of this business was made possible due to the remarkable professionalism and ambition of Mr. Tranchemontagne and his personnel.

1940 THE LIEBERMAN TEXTILES

During the 40s, shortly after World War II, the Lieberman family founded Les Toiles Lieberman, a business specialized in the importation, distribution, and manufacturing of products designed for hotels and restaurants. Respected and praised within the hospitality industry, the name Lieberman becomes synonymous with quality and longevity.

1981 THE MERGER THAT BROUGHT US TO LIFE

It was back in 1979 when Mr. André L'Africain became President of Les Toiles Lieberman. Only two years later in 1981, he proudly took over the almost century-old company, C. X. Tranchemontagne, as the two family-owned and operated businesses joined forces and merged to become Lieberman Tranchemontagne.

2019 THE CURRENT SITUATION

Fast forward to 2019, when André's son, Marc-André L'Africain, takes over management of the company, ensuring it stays within the family. This handover is done with the support and commitment of several long-time loyal employees, some of whom have been with the company for over 40 years!

Our commitments

OEKO-TEX®

The OEKO-TEX® system allows the quick identification and elimination of potential sources of problematic substances at every stage of processing. As soon as a textile product undergoes further processing or a change in its chemical composition, a check is necessary.

GREEN KEY PREFERRED VENDOR

Make part of this program confirms our commitment to sustainability and environmental responsibility, showing that our products and practices meet high eco-friendly standards. As a Green Key Preferred Vendor, we are now part of an exclusive group allowed to sell to Green Key certified hotels, strengthening our position as a company dedicated to sustainable practices.

LIEBERMAN ATELIER

Lieberman Textiles launched its new collection of premium bespoke bed linens - Lieberman Atelier. Cut and sewn at our factory in Montreal, Canada, we can create custom sizes and specs by working with the exclusive high-end fabrics available in our workshop.
