Disclosure Report

Date Submitted: February 10th, 2025

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Industries at Risk of Human Rights Violations

Topic	Company produces jewellery using precious metals, diamonds, and gemstones
Summary of Issue	Fair Trade Jewellery Co. manufactures jewellery made from precious metals, diamonds, and gemstones, which are raw material supply chains generally recognized as posing a human rights risk.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	Approximately 54% of the company's supplier expenses are from precious metals, diamonds, and gemstones.
Impact on Stakeholder(s)	The use of precious metals and gemstones poses a human rights risk due to the possibility that they are sourced from conflict-affected and high-risk areas, where they may be used to finance conflict and/or be associated with human rights abuses in the supply chain. B Lab has flagged the jewelry industry as a material issue after Fair Trade Jewellery Co. was already a Certified B Corp. Should specific performance requirements be created for companies in this industry, Fair Trade Jewellery Co. would be required to meet these standards by a future recertification date.
Implemented Management Practices	- Fair Trade Jewellery Co. sources gold that is certified recycled from a Responsible Jewellery Council Certified (RJC Certified) refiner, and artisanal gold certified under the Fairmined standard. - Its diamonds are either recycled, lab-grown, or sourced directly from Canada, - Its gemstones are either recycled, lab-grown, or sourced from suppliers in Sri Lanka, Australia, Madagascar, or the U.S. The company chooses those origins because the gems are cut and polished in the country of origin or--in the case of Australia, they are pre-formed in Australia and then finished in Thailand, - Origins are verified by an independent, ISO-certified Gem lab in New York and those origins are listed on the certificates they issue for each gem.

Report	Fair Trade Jewellery Co. was recognized by Human Rights Watch for exceptional work in supply chains (see: https://www.hrw.org/report/2018/02/08/hidden-cost-jewelry/human-rights-supply-chains-and-responsibility-jewelry)
