

DISCLOSURE MATERIALS

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire and B Lab deems them to be material, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue.
- 3) Demonstrate that management systems are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to background checks by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

| SIZE/SCOPE OF ISSUE(e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected) | 6 employees were laid off, representing 22% of the company's employees at that time. In that time period, Studio XAG had 27 permanent employees.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| IMPACT ON STAKEHOLDERS                                                            | The primary impact was loss of employment for affected employees and in Studio XAG's case, it was able to rehire 1 of those made redundant on a full time basis and one of them on a freelance basis. According to Studio XAG, those who left all managed to find suitable new employment shortly after.                                                                                                                                                                         |
| IMPLEMENTED MGT PRACTICES                                                         | Those employees who had been with the company and were eligible for statutory redundancy pay received it. Studio XAG offered support & resources in finding employment for the staff made redundant, provided glowing references for all and a 2 year membership to YCN, which is a creative network who offer training and workshops for those working in the creative industries. YCN also set up a redundancy support network and redundant employees were able to join this. |
| OTHER MANAGEMENT COMMENTS                                                         | The company may also be rehiring another ex-employee in the next month. As a whole the company and individuals were sad but those laid off were very understanding. It wasn't a decision made lightly by Studio XAG and the company claims that the layoffs would not have happened had it not been for the pandemic                                                                                                                                                             |
