Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

B Lab's Public Complaints Process

Any party may submit a complaint about a current B Corp through B Lab's Public Complaint Process. Grounds for complaint include:

- 1) Intentional misrepresentation of practices, policies, and/or claimed outcomes during the company's certification process
- 2) Breaches of the B Corp Community's core values as expressed in our Declaration of Interdependence

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Industries reliant upon materials at high Risk of Human Rights infringements

Topic	Jewelry company sourcing precious metals and gemstones
Summary of Issue	Chupi is a jewelry company whose products utilize precious metals and gemstones. These raw materials could be considered conflict minerals and pose a potential risk of human rights infringements.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	100% of the company's Cost of Goods Sold comes from precious metals and gemstones, including gold, silver, and diamonds.
Impact on Stakeholders	The use of precious metals and gemstones poses a human rights risk due to the possibility that they are sourced from conflict-affected and high-risk areas, where they may be used to finance conflict and/or be associated with human rights abuses in the supply chain.
Implemented Management Practices	Chupi 's gold and silver pieces are made using 100% recycled solid gold or sterling silver. As for gemstones, the company uses fully traceable, carbon-neutral lab-grown diamonds. The newly mined diamonds are certified through the Kimberley Process – an independent certification to ensure the origin of the stone is not subsidising conflict or war. Currently, 80% of the company's classic collection diamonds are recycled. Currently, 77.13% of Chupi's total supplier expenses come from certified suppliers (Responsible Jewellery Council, Kimberley Process) that can confirm materials are conflict-free. The remaining 28% of expenses are from suppliers who are not yet certified. The company has a Code of Conduct/Ethics applicable to all its business stakeholders. This Code outlines the company's expectations regarding ethical business practices, environmental responsibility, and respect for human rights throughout its supply chain. The Code is reviewed and updated annually to ensure alignment with evolving standards and specific industry or regulatory requirements. All suppliers are required to review and sign the Supplier Code of Conduct to confirm their formal commitment to the company's ethical and sustainability standards, and as part of their onboarding and annual renewal process. Currently, 100% of Chupi's precious metal and gemstone suppliers have formally signed and acknowledged the company's Supplier Code of Conduct.
