Mission Statement

Below is a copy of the company brief specific targets are addressed as strategic goals within 5 categories where Better Corporation (our approach to social and environmental responsibility is one of these). Our company was founded by Søren Jensen in 1945, when he left a partnership in Aarhus and moved to Silkeborg to become independent and develop his own professional status. Today, SJ is owned and managed by 2nd and 3rd generations of the Jensen family, in the same spirit, but in a new context. Gone are the post-war shortages and the social challenge has become to create a sustainable future. A challenge which is concrete and where our engineering professionalism has a significant responsibility: • Buildings make up to 80 billion kr. and 5% of Denmark's GDP • Buildings make up to 43% of Denmark's CO2 emissions • Danish houses have an average life of 77 years • Danes spends 90% of their life indoors. Our turnover of over 100 million kr. results from 5,000 man-years on building sites and 150,000 sqm. of new construction annually. What we design, means something real for society and for the quality of life of many. At SJ, we dare to challenge, including the large challenges, and challenging the status quo. We will therefore strive to define and create the buildings of the next-generation: • The regenerative building in which the invested financial, social and environmental resources are regenerated during the building's lifespan. • The user-friendly building, where the focus is on the individuals experience of functionality, indoor-climate and ease of use. The road to the next-generation of buildings is paved with value engineering. We are engineers and we like to find solutions – both advanced and practical. Artful engineering fulfills the building project's potential by finding the right solutions. These solutions can, in a creative way, answer the social challenges without compromising the quality of the user's experience or the project's functionality. Doing our best begins with the right framework - socially, technically and financially. The ambition requires managers and employees with commitment, personal integrity and potential. It can be hard to live up to - but everyone who is offered and seizes the opportunity is fully supported by SJ. Support also means a leadership that is responsive and inclusive towards employees during their and the company's development. SJ will continue to develop as an inquisitive and playful organization which is founded on and developed through professionalism. It is this together with our insight which determines how far we can utilize a building's potential. We are committed to our professional development both as individuals and as a team. Our engineering departments should be an open forum where we dare to share visions, ideas and knowledge as well as errors. The project model is continuously developed by the project managers which ensure a common thread runs through our design and gives clarity in terms of roles, responsibilities and processes. Our team organization focuses on being interdisciplinary and the team leaders provide reassurance, trust and appreciation. Together this gives the team space to aim high, creative thinking, develop professionalism and bridge interfaces. We are an independent and unique engineering company - not only creatively and professionally, but also as a cooperative partner. It should be a positive experience to work with us, and there should be no doubt about the continuing substance behind the three words - accountability, competence and cooperation – which have followed us for many years. In SJ we prioritize profitability and lasting relations. Both are created most effectively by pursuing projects safely through all project phases, delivering the buildings of the next-generation as well as maintaining quality, economy and time.
