A fresh approach to your global translations

For almost 40 years, we've helped international businesses streamline their translation process and achieve top-quality results from their global comms – and we can help you too.

Wherever your words appear – from powerful marketing to training materials, and from technical documents to corporate comms – Comtec makes reaching the world easier.

Engage and inform your audience

The effectiveness of your content and communications depends on their accuracy. When you've taken time to get your message right in English, the last thing you want is for it to lose impact and integrity when it's translated for an international audience.

Whether you need training materials, legal documents, HR manuals or marketing content, our translations maintain the high quality and effectiveness of your original message, worldwide. The result? Accurate content and a global audience that's enlightened, engaged and receptive.

Drive growth for your brand

Getting high-quality translations in multiple languages, quickly, affordably and effectively can be tough – but not with Comtec. We don't flinch at tight deadlines or shy away from complex projects. Instead, we produce accurate, timely, ISO-certified translations that meet your needs – however challenging your project. And when your needs are being met, you can achieve your business goals – whether that's boosting engagement in your overseas teams, building a loyal client base or increasing global sales.

React quickly to international opportunities

In a high-speed world, being able to respond quickly to business opportunities and developments can mean the difference between business growth and stagnation.

Our service isn't just accurate – it's fast. We're responsive and flexible enough to translate your global content quickly, however tight your deadline.

If you have an urgent skills gap to fill, a time-sensitive marketing campaign to launch, or a last-minute demand for training content, we've got your back.

Put your trust in us

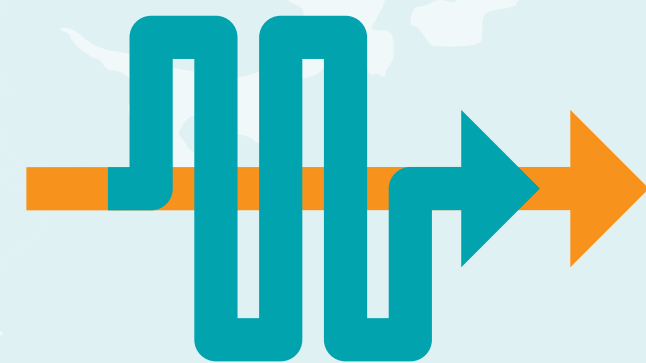

We work with over 4,000 native-language linguists in over 120 countries, each with their area of expertise. Whatever field your business is in – whether you're a manufacturer, a creative agency, an elearning provider, a professional services firm or a tech giant – we hand-pick translators who fit your business. They know your sector, your specialist areas, and even your technical terminology, to ensure you get the best possible results.

Our commitment to you

We're not just a translation company – we're a translation partner. Our people have a passion for languages, expertise in translation, a desire to make a difference and the skills to help you produce accurate, engaging and effective messaging – wherever in the world your customers are.

We can help you...

Global translations that get results

If you have something meaningful to say, we'll help you say it.

From the efficient translation of factual materials to the creative transcreation and copywriting needed to make emotive copy resonate in every market, our expertise, technology and know-how will help you achieve brilliant results.

Marketing and brand development

We'll help you build strong global brands by ensuring your marketing is consistent and powerful in every language.

Wherever your content appears – from ads and brochures to videos and websites – our specialist marketing translators have the experience and creative flair needed to inform and inspire your international audience.

Need to influence your customers online? No problem! We have a proven track record of increasing online engagement – including both online purchasing and social media interactions.

HR and Internal comms

Your international teams must be as engaged as your people at HQ – but how do you achieve this? By producing high-quality, fully localised content in all languages, we'll help you to develop strong connections around the world, so your global staff feel part of a wider team and function as one organisation.

From informative company newsletters to inspiring CEO briefing videos, our specialist internal comms translators will enable you to get your global employees onside and empower them to deliver the results you need.

Elearning and training

It's all very well producing great content, but if your message gets lost in translation, your learning simply won't stick. We'll help your learners absorb and retain more information by delivering content that's relevant and accurate.

Our network of specialist native-language translators and elearning developers enables us to deliver an end-to-end service – including localised content in every format and language – to make your life easier.

Technical documentation

Your user guides, technical manuals and product specifications can be some of the most important documents you produce, so they must be accurately translated.

We hand-pick linguists with specialist knowledge of your industry and technical terminology. Combined with our relentless focus on achieving the highest possible quality, the result is precise technical translations, on time, every time.

International interpreting

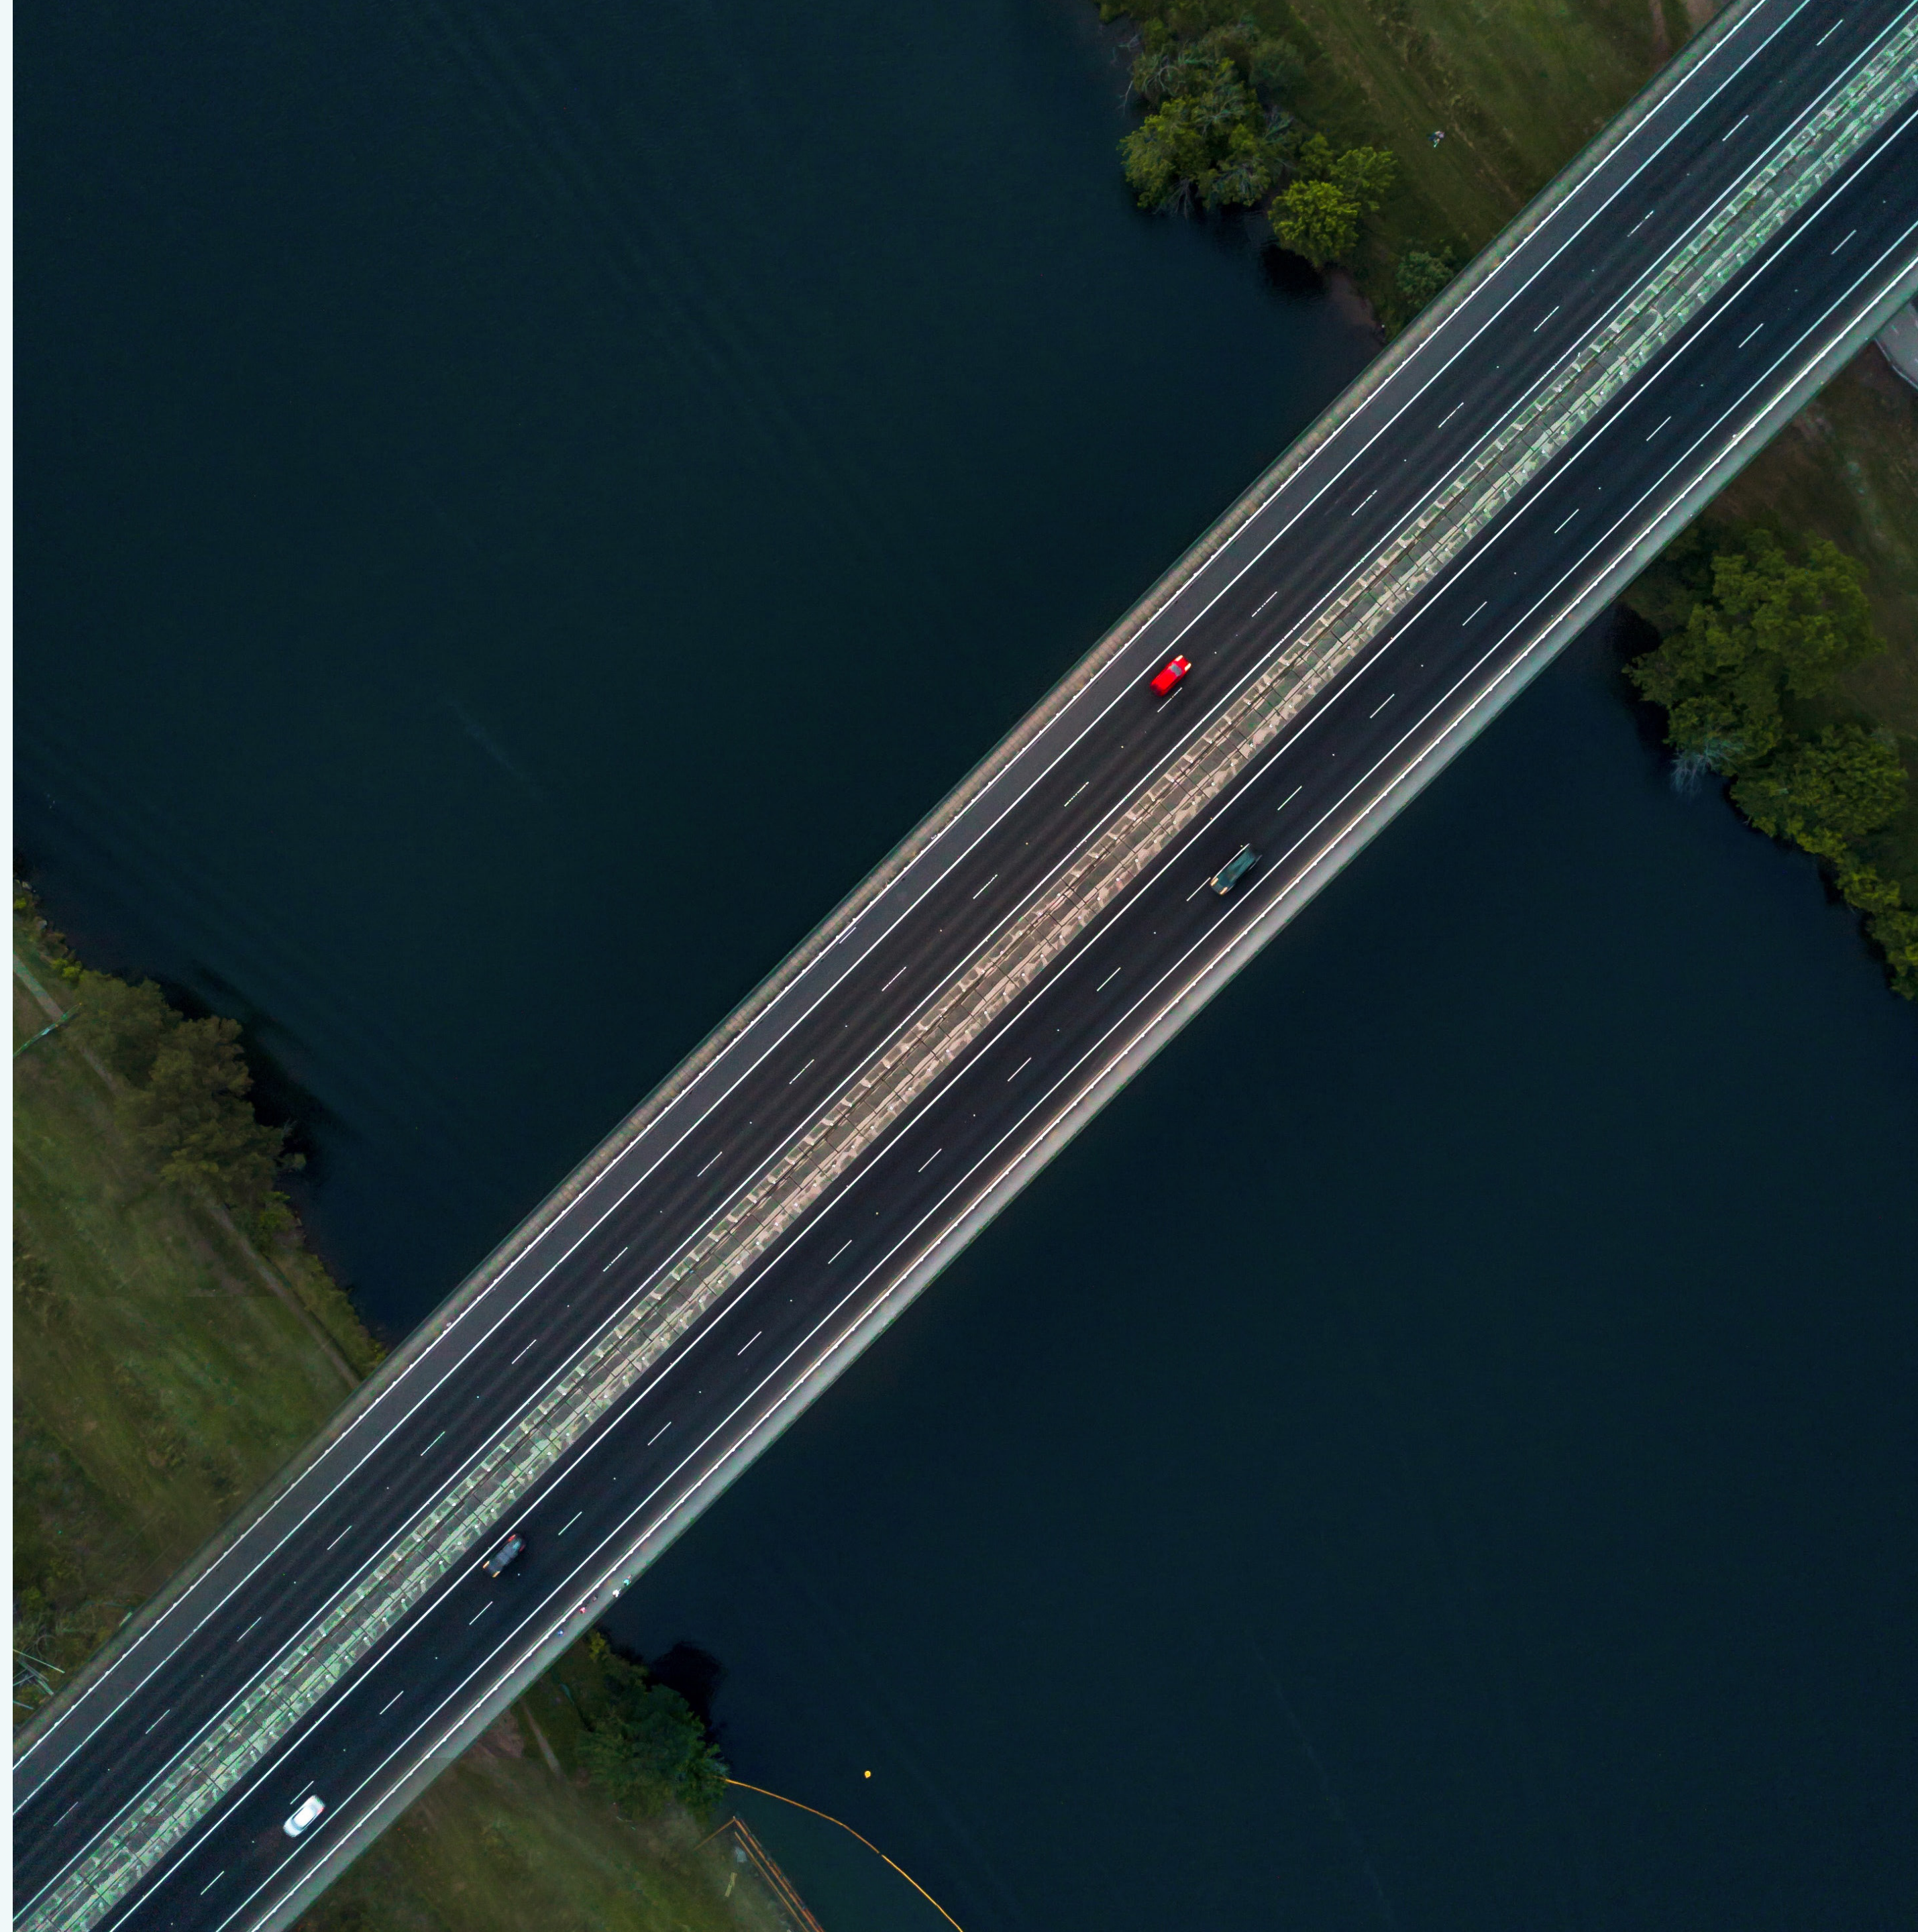

If you're in charge of organising international events, conferences, board meetings, training or site visits, you'll know it's crucial to eliminate potential misunderstandings and to deliver an engaging experience for your participants and guests.

As well as supplying effective and accurate interpreting for court hearings, overseas business meetings, exhibitions and conferences, we also provide sign language interpreters for a fully inclusive experience.

“Comtec are great communicators with their clients, keeping in touch on a regular basis and continuing to improve their services by listening to their clients.”

The Comtec Approach

For almost 40 years, successful businesses have relied on us to translate their words into over 200 languages. We partner with everyone from marketing and HR departments to product development and corporate services – and they all have one thing in common: they consider us to be an integral part of their team.

Here are just a few of the benefits of working with Comtec:

Hand-picked linguists: for high-quality results

We carefully select the best translation team for your project from our global network of over 4,000 native-speaking linguists. Not only are they fluent in over 200 languages – they’re also fluent in your area of expertise.

Tailored service: getting to know you better

We take the time to understand your business, goals and translation needs before suggesting an effective and affordable solution that’s right for your business.

Quality certified: for peace of mind

Our rigorous quality certification and confidentiality procedures help to protect your brand and minimise the risk of data breaches or reputational damage.

Streamlined translation procedures: making your life easier

Our effective and efficient procedures do more than save you time, money and stress. They enable you to react quickly to global opportunities in your market and to stay ahead of the competition as a result.

Exceptional service: for the personal touch

We’ll provide you with a dedicated account manager or account management team to make your life easier. Having one point of contact makes your life easier by providing consistency, saving time, and building fulfilling relationships.

Cutting edge technology: saving time and money

Intelligent software tools, such as translation memories, enable us to pass on savings to you – so you can enjoy faster, more consistent and more accurate translations for an affordable price.

Fast AND accurate: a winning partnership

We understand the demands of international business, and we’re primed to respond to your translation requests with the speed that’s needed to drive growth for your brand.

“It’s absolutely vital that our global audience receives the correct information in a language they understand. Comtec is fully entrusted as our sole translation service provider, and continues to provide us with a second-to-none service.”

Your content, your way

Wherever you need multilingual content to engage, inform and inspire, we've got you covered. However large or complex your project, we ensure your message is strong, compelling and ready to resonate in every region – from websites and social media posts to elearning programmes and training videos.

Online

As well as translating website copy, we manage complex rebuilds to ensure new websites are effectively localised and ready to launch on time. From product listings to reviews, blogs and SEO, our website experts will give you a head start in over 200 languages – freeing you up to focus on producing new content.

Videos

Video has earned its place at the heart of marketing, elearning and internal comms. Our voiceover, subtitling and editing services ensure your videos are professional, engaging and shareable in every language.

Documents

We combine the latest translation technology with personal service and skilled industry expertise to deliver accurate document translations you can rely on – from product specifications to contracts, and from project proposals to instruction manuals. Specialist translators compile our technical documents, and the British Home Office recognises our certified legal translations.

Artworking and Desktop Publishing

If you need help going to print or launching online campaigns across several territories at once, we can help. We'll update your artwork with our translations so you can launch your campaigns seamlessly and impress your colleagues in the process.

What our clients say

“Comtec is committed to an excellent service. They’ve got a good team of people; they’re very flexible and approachable, and take the time to work with us in partnership. Working together in this way means that we’re able to deliver the best results to our global clients.”

Louise Pasterfield
Founder and Managing Director,
Sponge

“The Comtec team were brilliant at recruiting for our project, finding us the best people without very much notice!”

Hannah Richmond
Senior Interactive Producer,
Aardman Animations

“We couldn’t have done it without Comtec! From my perspective, having a really solid, reliable system of support, with people I knew could get on with it and do it well, was crucial. That’s what I had with Comtec, which is why the project came together so well.”

Rebecca Duvall
Senior Digital Marketing Manager,
Achilles

Global businesses have trusted Comtec to translate and localise their content for over 40 years, and in over 200 languages.

To them, we’re not just a translation provider – we’re a partner. But don’t just take our word for it...

From elearning...
When market-leading elearning provider, Sponge, was faced with an increased volume of multilingual projects, they turned to us for help.
Our ability to deliver quality voiceover, subtitling and image localisation services within tight deadlines accelerated Sponge’s delivery schedules by around four weeks.

...to websites
Our website translation services enabled Achilles, a supply chain risk and performance management company, to launch six new foreign language websites in a matter of months.
As a result of our translations, Achilles reported an 18% increase in website visitors – each of whom viewed an average of 36% more pages per visit!

However complex your project...
When other providers turned them down, we helped telecommunications giant, Huawei Mobile, recruit sign language presenters and interpreters for a project with Aardman Animations.
The resulting collaboration – the innovative StorySign app for deaf children – successfully launched in ten countries.

...we ALWAYS find a way
Creative agency, The Marketing Store, asked us for help translating a series of short children’s stories into around 40 languages. The translated books were to be given away with McDonald’s Happy Meals.
Having already impressed The Marketing Store by streamlining their production process, we wowed them by recruiting translators and proofreaders with specialist experience in transcreating books for children.

“Comtec not only deliver high quality translation services with speed but also provide excellent customer support while doing so. As a company they are extremely capable, responsive and flexible in their approach and will work with you to produce exactly what you need.”
