Disclosure Report

Date Submitted: November 25th, 2024

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Tax Reduction Through Corporate Structure

Topic	Corporate Shell registered in the Cayman Islands
Summary of Issue	Good Food Technologies' parent company is registered in the Cayman Islands. All Good Food Technologies' operations are based in Hong Kong and Guangzhou.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	Good Food Technologies have three companies with a straight-line structure, where the structure based in the Cayman Islands is the parent, with 100% holding of a Hong Kong subsidiary, which has 100% holding of Guangzhou subsidiary. Each subsidiary is liable for tax for their respective countries. However, as the company is having a loss, corporate income tax are not currently applicable.
Impact on Stakeholders	In addition to the many different aspects of value that business provides society, business has an obligation to contribute its share of taxes. This is because business exists within the context of society; its proper role is to serve society, not the other way around. Moreover, healthy businesses can only exist over the long term in a healthy society. A healthy society depends upon public expenditures made possible by taxes.
Implemented Management Practices	Good Food Technologies' corporate structure and tax compliance ensures that taxes are paid at subsidiary level in the territories where it operates and employs individuals. The parent company was not incorporated in the Cayman Islands to mitigate the overall tax burden of the group. When these companies return to a taxable profit position, they will pay corporation tax in Hong Kong and China on their trading profits at 16.5% and 25% respectively.
