

Score Aggregation Methodology & Brand List

Bonduelle Group 2025

As the B Corporation Certification is a company-level certification, the assessment of a Parent Company is required to include its subsidiaries in which it owns >50% of the shares and has a controlling interest. Depending on the operations of the certifying company, Parent Companies may roll up their subsidiaries into a single assessment or assess separately.

Regardless of whether a Certified Parent Company's subsidiaries are assessed together or separately, only distinct subsidiaries that B Lab has determined independently meet the performance requirement for certification (i.e. score of 80+ points) are eligible to use the Certified B Corporation logo and refer to themselves as Certified B Corporations.

Aggregated Scoring Methodology

Brands

As a result of this certification process, all of Bonduelle's operations are certified. Therefore, "Bonduelle Group" is a Certified B Corp™."

The company may use the B Corp IP on its Bonduelle-branded websites, as all Bonduelle entities are now included in the scope of a B Corp Certification.

Bonduelle Group may use the logo if it chooses to. Any other entities/brands with a different name than the certified parent that want to use the IP will have to meet the 80-point bar on their own through a Brand Review.

Brands that are not distinct operating subsidiaries included in the Parent Company's certification are not Certified B Corporations themselves but may use the Certified B Corporation logo if B Lab has determined they have independently met the performance requirement for certification. Otherwise, the Certified B Corporation logo shall only be used in reference to the brand as part of the Parent Company's certification.

For a list of brands under Bonduelle Group that have been determined to have met the performance standards for certification (i.e. score of 80+ points) independently and can therefore use the B Corp IP, see below:
