Disclosure Report

Date Submitted: February 21st, 2024

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other - Clients in Controversial Industries

Topic	Clients in Controversial Industries
Summary of Issue	4c is a firm specialized in offering digital and consultancy solutions dedicated to the legal market. The company has had clients in controversial industries such as debt collection agencies in emerging markets, fossil-fuels (non-coal/oil sands), pharmaceuticals & water utilities. The nature of the company's services with clients in these industries has been related to the designing and delivery of services for legal procurement process management and legal support using web-based software technology solutions. All of the company's services can be sold to both controversial as well as non-controversial industries.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	In the fiscal year of 2022, an estimated total of 10.6% of revenue was generated through the clients in controversial industries as mentioned above.
Impact on Stakeholders	Companies that work with clients in controversial industries can indirectly increase the harmful impact to stakeholders by enabling business growth. Therefore, companies that work with clients in these industries should have practices in place to ensure that their impact is aimed at decreasing the negative impacts of the industry. B Lab has flagged the involvement of companies with clients in controversial industries as a material issue and new standards will be created to address possible risks related to this matter.
Implemented Management Practices	4c currently does not have a specific position on working with clients in controversial industries. The company however does engage in a due diligence process concerning potential clients and partners in general to ensure alignment with its values and practices..The initial evaluation is conducted by the company's compliance department and it is determined by the inherent nature and characteristics of the service/s requested by the potential clients. The service/s requested cannot be employed by the potential clients to cause harm to people and the environment.
