Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

B Lab's Public Complaints Process

Any party may submit a complaint about a current B Corp through B Lab's Public Complaint Process. Grounds for complaint include:

- 1) Intentional misrepresentation of practices, policies, and/or claimed outcomes during the company's certification process
- 2) Breaches of the B Corp Community's core values as expressed in our Declaration of Interdependence

This document contains a copy of the company's completed Disclosure Questionnaire and related disclosure documentation provided by the company.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other Practices

Topic	Company hires foreign employees for temporary work
Summary of Issue	Cultures Gen V employs temporary workers (which includes migrant workers). Tasks performed by these workers include: preparing and maintaining crops (sowing, planting, fertilizing, irrigating, pruning, weeding,) harvesting and packaging.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	The company's workforce on an annual basis is composed of approx 75% of foreign employees that come from Guatemala and Mexico to work with fixed contracts of 6-8 months. Each year they come, work for the designated period and then go back to their countries.
Impact on Stakeholders	In general, migrant workers under temporary employment are considered a vulnerable group and they can be at risk of labor exploitation.
Implemented Management Practices	In order to bring in temporary foreign workers, the company must obtain government authorization. To do so, they must provide a labor market impact study proving that the company have taken the necessary steps to try and recruit local labor without success. The documentation for the labor market impact study is done in collaboration with the immigration specialists at the Union des Producteurs Agricoles. Minimum wages are established by the government to ensure that wages paid to temporary foreign agricultural workers are comparable to wages paid to Quebec workers for identical work. Deductions to be made from wages of each temporary foreign worker is regulated by the bilateral agreements between the governments involved (the country of origin of the workers and Canada). The company claims they are trying to align themselves with the Collective Agreement, even on non-unionized sites. This means, for example, that they try to offer a minimum of 40 hours of work a week over 6 days a week, unless production levels do not allow it. In addition to that, all Cultures Gen V's workers have access to the same group insurance. They also have access to RAMQ for free medical care in Quebec.

Cultures Gen V has a social committee that programs events to better integrate foreign workers and organize various leisure activities. The company conducts feedback surveys a few times a year to get a better idea of what workers want and need.
