Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other - Clients in Controversial Industries

Topic	Clients in Controversial Industries
Summary of Issue	Gestão Samaúma is a consultancy firm specializing in sustainability strategy and management that provides services to clients in controversial industries such as for-profit higher education, fossil fuel (others excluded coal and oil sand), mining, pharmaceutical products and whole life insurance products. Their services can also be sold to non-controversial industries.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	For the fiscal year 2023, the revenue generated from clients in controversial industries accounted for approximately 19% of the company's overall revenue: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- 9.79% of the client revenue has been from clients in the fossil fuel (others excluded coal and oil sand) industry.</li><li>- 7.77% of the client revenue has been from clients in the mining industry.</li><li>- 1.12% of the client revenue has been from clients in the pharmaceutical products industry.</li></ul> The company did not generate revenues from clients in the for-profit higher education and whole life insurance industries during fiscal year 2023.
Impact on Stakeholders	Companies that work with clients in controversial industries can indirectly increase the harmful impact to stakeholders by enabling business growth. Therefore, companies that work with clients in these industries should have practices in place to ensure that their impact is aimed at decreasing the negative impacts of the industry. B Lab has flagged the involvement of companies with clients in controversial industries as a material issue and new standards will be created to address possible risks related to this matter.
Implemented Management Practices	The company has established guidelines for working with clients in controversial industries. The company has identified certain sectors that are ineligible for collaboration, including the production and trade of weapons, ammunition, and military equipment, as well as prison services, prisons, detention centres, gambling, charity lotteries, casinos, and similar enterprises, among others. The company collaborates with the mining sector with the aim of minimizing negative impacts by monitoring the implementation of the IRMA Certification (Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance).

Report	For more information about the company's practices regarding this topic, please visit the company's webpage/ sustainability report, accessible here .
Management Comments	Samaúma distributes robust guidelines for working with clients and sectors that it believes can contribute to the debate on systemic changes, classified as controversial sectors. On the other hand, we have also established a list of sectors we will not work in, as they are considered ineligible. The definition of controversial sectors, present in our Sustainability Policy, is based on screenings and global standards from internationally recognized institutions, such as the IFC Excluded Industries List, ILO (International Labor Organization) conventions, B3's list of controversial sectors, BCorp, S&amp;P's ESG Media and Stakeholder Analysis Methodology, Sustainalytics' Controversial Sectors Research Methodology, among others. Samaúma assesses its operations in controversial sectors, leading the supervision of risks associated with the characteristics and scope of the project, and can support them in secondary research, if necessary, such as publications and press, risk analysis tools, recognized technical-scientific references, among others. All services offered by Samaúma seek, in essence, to reduce negative socio-environmental impacts and enhance positive impacts, as we work on implementing strategies, management and education for sustainability and ESG in companies. Regarding the "fossil fuels (others excluding coal and tar sands)" sector, assessed by Blab as controversial, it is worth noting that the client Samaúma is a company 100% based on renewable energy (hydroelectric, wind and solar sources) and, therefore, the use of fossil fuels is not applied in its business model.
