Disclosure Report
Date Submitted: March 8th, 2024

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other - Clients in Controversial Industries

Topic	Clients in Controversial Industries
Summary of Issue	One Stone provides sustainability consulting services. The company has had clients in controversial industries such as alcohol and pharmaceutical companies. The nature of the company's services with clients in these industries has been related to ESG landscape review and sustainability reporting. All of the company's services can be sold to both controversial as well as non-controversial industries.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	The total revenue derived from the consulting services provided to the companies in the controversial industries as listed above represented about 20% of their revenue in the last financial year.
Impact on Stakeholders	Companies that work with clients in controversial industries can indirectly increase the harmful impact to stakeholders by enabling business growth. Therefore, companies that work with clients in these industries should have practices in place to ensure that their impact is aimed at decreasing the negative impacts of the industry. B Lab has flagged the involvement of companies with clients in controversial industries as a material issue and new standards will be created to address possible risks related to this matter.
Implemented Management Practices	The company has created a decision tree to flag any potential controversial industry clients. They have a policy to not work with any companies in the tobacco, hydrocarbons companies (unless they are formally committed to energy transition), weapons, and gambling industries. They also ask their potential clients questions about their journey towards positive impact, awareness and action towards their negative impacts and influence along their supply chain. One Stone does not have immediate plans to continue working with companies in the pharmaceutical and alcohol industry in the immediate future. The company is willing to take on specific clients if they meet its stringent sustainability guidelines (e.g., clients that are designed to reduce waste and improve sustainability within the wider industry). In reviewing prospective clients, One Stone holds discussions and establishes a mutual understanding that One Stone's advisory services are only to be used to help companies move into a leadership position on sustainability.
