Disclosure Report

Disclosure Materials

Certified B Corporations must complete a Disclosure Questionnaire to identify potentially sensitive issues related to the company (e.g. historical fines, sanctions, material litigation, or sensitive industry practices).

This component does not affect the company's score on the B Impact Assessment. If the company answers affirmatively to any items in the Disclosure Questionnaire that B Lab deems relevant for public stakeholders, then, as a condition of their certification, the company must:

- 1) Be transparent about details of the disclosure issues identified on the company's public B Impact Report
- 2) Describe how the company has addressed this issue
- 3) Demonstrate that management practices are in place to avoid similar issues from arising in the future, when necessary.

In all cases, the Standards Advisory council reserves the right to refuse certification if the company is ultimately deemed not to uphold the spirit and integrity of the community.

In addition to the voluntary indication of sensitive issues in the Disclosure Questionnaire, companies pursuing Certification also are subject to a background check by B Lab staff. Background checks include a review of public records, news sources, and search engines for company names, brands, executives/founders, and other relevant topics.

Sensitive issues identified through background checks may or may not be within the scope of questions in the Disclosure Questionnaire, but undergo the same review process and are subject to the same possible review by the Standards Advisory Council, including ineligibility for B Corp Certification, required remediation, or disclosure.

Disclosure Questionnaire Statement

Disclosure Questionnaire Category: Other - Clients in Controversial Industries

Topic	Clients in Controversial Industries
Summary of Issue	The company is an environmental and sustainability engineering company that has had clients in the mining industry. The nature of the company's services with clients in these industries has been related to environmental compliance; services that can be sold to both controversial as well as non-controversial industries.
Size/Scope of Issue (e.g. $ financial implication, # of individuals affected)	The revenue from clients in the mining industry represented 5% in FY21-22.
Impact on Stakeholders	Companies that work with clients in controversial industries can indirectly increase the harmful impact to stakeholders by enabling business growth. Therefore, companies that work with clients in these industries should have practices in place to ensure that their impact is aimed at decreasing the negative impacts of the industry. B Lab has flagged the involvement of companies with clients in controversial industries as a material issue and new standards will be created to address possible risks related to this matter.
Implemented Management Practices	The company has no position on working with clients in controversial industries. Before engaging with a new client, Enveng conducts an initial assessment to understand the nature of the client's operations, the industry they operate in, and any potential environmental or social risks associated with their activities. Enveng evaluates the potential environmental impact of the client's operations, considering factors such as resource extraction, waste generation, emissions, and land use. Enveng also conducts a social impact analysis to identify any potential adverse effects on local communities, workers, or other stakeholders. This may include considerations such as labor practices, community health and safety, and indigenous rights. In addition, the company ensures that the client is in compliance with relevant environmental regulations, permits, and licenses. This involves reviewing the client's regulatory record and identifying any past violations or enforcement actions that may
