

Golf Digest

October 19, 2017

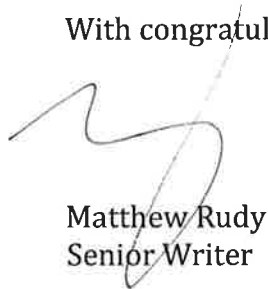

It is our distinct pleasure to inform you that you are being recognized by Golf Digest as one of the leading golf instructors in the country. Last summer, we distributed voting ballots to more than 1,000 instructors to identify the top teaching talent both nationally and in every state. By a vote of your peers, you are hereby recognized as part of the following:

Golf Digest's 50 Best Teachers in America (2017-18)

Congratulations on this outstanding accomplishment. Please feel free to share this news with your personal and professional networks. The official teacher rankings will be published in the November issue of Golf Digest, on newsstands October 31.

Thank you for the work you do every day to grow and support the game. We're very happy to have you as part of our America's Best Teachers program, and we look forward to keeping you involved with Golf Digest.

With congratulations,

Matthew Rudy
Senior Writer

Peter Morrice
Executive Editor