This Is One Way to Benefit a Museum

Most museum benefits are a little stuffy. This museum benefit celebrates the Cartoon Art Museum's final days in their current location with music, drinks and cartoonists who will draw you superheroes and stuff. So this one doesn't seem stuffy.

BLOCK JAMS

Something's Happening on 20th Street

Huh. Just last week, the 20th Street corridor was conspicuously not lined with vendors like Flour + Water, Trick Dog and the Tradesman. Nor did there exist a row of art exhibitions. Or musicians doing musician things. What a difference a week and a giant block party makes.

411: Sep 12, noon-6pm, no cost for general admission (VIP $95), NoisePop's 20th Street Block Party, 20th St (between Bryant and Harrison), tickets here

Sunday

HIGH FIVES

"Oh, Great. This Again." —Pigs

This little piggy went to market. This little piggy stayed home. This little piggy went to Cochon 555 with all the other little heritage piggies to be made into BBQ by chefs. The results of which you'll gladly pair with fine whiskeys. That's totally how that goes.

411: Sep 13, 5pm (VIP 4pm), $100-$200, Cochon Heritage B.B.Q. at Magnolia Brewing Co., 665 22nd St (at 3rd), 415-864-7468, tickets here

CARLTON DANCE

Quite a Bit of Excess at the Ritz

Your Date: Let's just do something low-key tonight.

Your Date: What is it, Opposite Day or something?

411: Now open, JCB Tasting Lounge at The Ritz-Carlton, 600 Stockton St (at Pine), 415-296-2329

Monday

STOCK PARTY

The Niners Play Monday. Go Here.

The rule: Mondays are the worst.

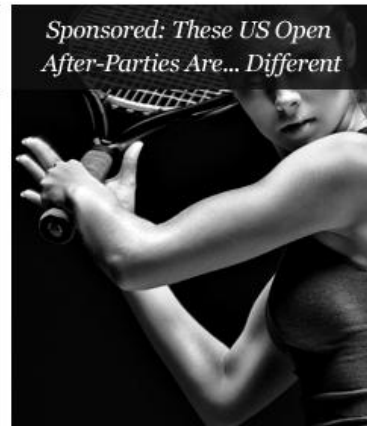

The exception: A 49ers season-opener party at Stock in Trade, where you'll play halftime bocce on their indoor court and revel in all-night happy hour specials.

The other exception: Labor Day, but that already happened.

411: Sep 14, 5-11pm, no cover, Stock in Trade, 2036 Lombard St (at Fillmore), 415-829-3000, RSVP here
