Sonoma Wine: One Day Tasting Tour (Photos)

Especially at this time of year—that is, harvest time—Sonoma County, California, is known predominantly for its wine. But especially in the northern part of the county, near the city of Healdsburg, there are plenty of other attractions. Our itinerary includes the best of the best: food, outdoor adventure, and, of course, wine. Follow our lead to satisfy all your senses. By Matt Villano and Erica Duecy

Crystal chandeliers and modern art adorn the downtown Healdsburg tasting room of Boisset Family Estates. The winery imports wines from Burgandy, but a standard tasting also includes pinot noirs grown in Sonoma County (many of which are grown organically and biodynamically).

TIP: Grab a seat in one of two bay windows for people-watching while you sip.
