

← Photo of the Day: Sunflowers

Buena Vista Hosts CellarPass Networking Event

Like Like Tweet 1

Pin it

Posted on July 29, 2013 by SomethingAboutSonoma.com

Jean-Charles Boisset

By: Leiska Van Staaveren, SomethingAboutSonoma.com Staff

This past week, we had the chance to experience the hospitality of California's oldest winery at a Buena Vista Winery networking event, sponsored by CellarPass. Guests were greeted by Buena Vista staff in the authentic time period garb and received a glass of sparkling wine upon entering, as if that wasn't enough of a sign that it would be a delightful evening.

Recent Posts

Videos

Images

Articles

Site Updates

Spotlights

SONOMA COUNTY CALIFORNIA GO TO INTERACTIVE MAP

E-NEWSLETTER SIGN UP

Name:

Email:

- Interested Business Owner
Curious Individual

SIGN UP

business of the month July: El Dorado Kitchen click here for more informaiton

People are talkin'!

The tasting room held an array of gourmet cheeses and meats to be sampled alongside several of the exquisite Buena Vista reds. Also available for tasting were the fine chocolates of Le Belge Chocolatier based out of Napa Valley. We particularly enjoyed the red velvet truffle and the salted chocolate truffle.

In the courtyard there were several different stations set up with a variety of foods to taste. From freshly made-right-in-front-of-you tacos to a sushi sampler and Fiorello's gelato cart, the eats were just as good as the delicious wine!

This event also held an exclusive opportunity to explore the newly renovated wine cave. With a true Gatsby feel (cream leather couches, chandeliers and all!), the environment transported guests back in time. Even the old-time feel photobooth allowed guests to take home a memory of the event.

The most gracious of hosts, Jean-Charles Boisset, spoke about bringing the history of the Buena Vista wine cave back to visitors, claiming that it is, "our winery" as patrons and people of this valley. We could not be more excited to share our experience at Buena Vista and encourage all to take advantage of Real Wine Country's rich history.

This entry was posted in Sonoma County and tagged Buena Vista, CellarPass, Jean-Charles Boisset, networking, Winery. Bookmark the permalink.

← Photo of the Day: Sunflowers

via Twitter

Follow SomethingAboutSonoma

via Facebook

SomethingAboutSonoma
Like Like
Like Like
You like this.

SomethingAboutSonoma.c
Jean-Charles Boisset and Buena Vista Winery host CellarPass event. <http://www.somethingaboutsonoma.com/blog/2013/07/buena-vista-hosts-cellarpass-networking-event/> about an hour ago

Buena Vista Hosts CellarPass Networking Event - SomethingAbout Blog
www.somethingabc 0 people

SomethingAboutSonoma.c
congratulations to nderful use fan & ant for anked #3 an - for #3 and 3 on the World's tels by + Leisure!
www.nytimes.com/travelmagazine.c icles/se-inn-ranked #3 and in t he-us-by-travel
leisure-19793.asp

Recent Posts

- Buena Vista Hosts CellarPass Networking Event
- Photo of the Day: Sunflowers
- A Night of Whimsy at