ST. HELENA — Raymond Vineyards in St. Helena hosted a benefit soiree for the Napa Valley Hospice & Adult Day Services on Sept. 14. The event raised $460,000 to support the many programs offered by the organization in Napa County.

A sold-out crowd enjoyed a festive reception that included aerial artists and a contortionist. The four-course classic French menu, prepared by acclaimed chef Michel Cornu, and the live auction were accompanied by high-kicking can-can dancers.

Jean-Charles Boisset, proprietor of Raymond Vineyards and honorary chairman for the event, was recognized for his leadership in the wine industry and his commitment to the community.

“My own family has been deeply touched by the incredible work of the hospices in Burgundy, France, where I’m originally from, and where began the tradition of charity wine auctions supporting the vital efforts of the community,” Boisset said. “So to have the honor to be able to now support hospice by hosting their extraordinary gala at Raymond Vineyards is a stunning privilege for our family. Our thanks to the generous bidders and incredible team at Napa Valley Hospice & Adult Day Services for creating a magical and vibrant evening that will last forever through the contributions made to our valley.”
