

The Mercury News

6 gifts foodies are craving this year

By JACKIE BURRELL | jburrell@bayareanewsgroup.com and JESSICA YADEGARAN

PUBLISHED: November 19, 2017 at 9:00 am | UPDATED: November 19, 2017 at 12:47 pm

Holiday shopping can be an exhausting affair. The multitudes of Santa-seeking tots! The preponderance of Santas! The parking nightmares! Not to mention the straining involved in coming up with yet another gift idea. Fret not. We've got you covered with seven fantastic gift ideas for the foodies and gourmets on your list.

4 JCB Olive Oil and Vinegar

Napa Valley's Jean-Paul Boisset is known for his opulent style, and this gift set ($55) is no exception. It features olive oil made from olives grown and pressed in Oakville and a bottle of vinegar made from Raymond Vineyards wines that are aged in neutral French oak wine barrels. The bejeweled vinegar bottle is meant to be reused with pizzazz, bien sur. www.atelierfinefoods.com