CAVE TOURS For more than a century, wine country wineries have used caves to age their wines, and many regional wineries offer tours of these spaces, including Stag's Leap Wine Cellars, located in Napa, which has a Foucault pendulum as its centerpiece. Jarvis Estate, also in Napa, boasts both subterranean tours and beautiful grounds. In Calistoga, visit Schramsberg Vineyards, which uses caves that were partially dug in the 19th century. Hall Wines, in Rutherford, has underground spaces that approach the grandeur of a cathedral. Sonoma's Buena Vista Winery and the Kunde Family Winery, in nearby Kenwood, also offer fascinating tours.
