

You've probably heard of Napa Valley in California - but how about Sonoma? It's that famous wine-growing region's less flashy neighbour, and well worth a visit says Gill Pringle.

FAST FACTS - SONOMA

VINO veritas: Established in 1857, Buena Vista Wineries is the oldest winery in Sonoma - long before there was a California wine business. With so many choices, we visited MacPhail Family Wines at The Barlow in Sebastapol. Ask Brad to pour some Pratt and tell you wine stories. [macphailwine.com].
