

Kathleen Hill: Easter eats, pingpong potpourri and Grand Marshal Banquet

KATHLEEN HILL

INDEX-TRIBUNE FOOD & WINE EDITOR | April 13, 2017

Tailwags & Handbags coming soon

Tailwags & Handbags is a benefit to support Pets Lifeline, Sonoma's no-kill pet placement service, according to Pets Lifeline executive director Nancy King.

Fans and supporters who have designer bags or just plain interesting purses or bags to spare donate them for you to bid on in a silent auction, all taking place Friday, April 28 at Buena Vista Winery. King says they are offering a discount if you buy tickets for both Tailwags & Handbags and Paws for a Cause at the same time by Saturday, April 15.

Victor Scargle, Buena Vista's new executive chef hired from the Culinary Institute of America at Copia to replace Michel Cornu, who retired recently, will prepare a lunch of carrot soup with Rock Shrimp ceviche and shaved carrot salad; wood grilled chicken with Vadouvan wild rice and peas with a vegetarian option (must be pre-ordered) of lovage, Parmesan tart with vegetable salad, Lola Rossa (red leaf lettuce) with baby corn and Full Circle Penngrove wheat demi loaves. Dessert served family style will include quarter pints of housemade ice creams and sorbets, with French Press coffee and Tazo teas, all served with JCB wines. Lots of shade umbrellas. $95. 11:30 to 2 p.m. 19000 Old Winery Road, Sonoma. Tickets at 996-4577, ext. 110 or petslifeline.org.

