BRIAN MALONEY BUENA VISTA WINERY

Before there were vineyards in every valley north of San Francisco, before Napa and Sonoma were household names, before there was a California wine world at all, there was Buena Vista. Founded in 1857, Buena Vista is California's first premium winery and its history is as colorful as it is proud. Today, the legend is re-born under the vision of Jean-Charles Boisset. Just outside the town of Sonoma, the original winery is now a California Historic Landmark and home to our Winery, Tasting Room and Historic Wine Tool Museum.

Since 2011, Director of Winemaking Brian Maloney with consulting winemaking David Ramey, has overseen the rebirth of the legendary Buena Vista Winery. In 2012 his team was the first to make wine in the historic Champagne Cellars in over 30 years, a feat that was celebrated on the first day of harvest that year by reopening the cellars. Focusing on small-production, unique varietals and bold red blends, the wines of Buena Vista recall the origins of California winemaking, paying homage to Count Agoston Haraszthy as a pioneer of the wine world. Brian focuses on traditional winemaking techniques and exceptional vineyard sourcing to hand-craft wines of true distinction.
